

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY, BOSTON, Jan. 30, 1894.

To the Honorable Senate and the House of Representatives.

I have the honor to submit herewith, in accordance with section 2, chapter 262, of the Acts of 1892, the second annual report of the transactions of this office, covering the year ending with the 31st of December, 1893.

To the duties previously assigned to this office the Legislature of 1893 added five others: the supervision of the State printing; the purchase of war histories of Massachusetts regiments, batteries, etc.; the administration of the new acts relative to labels, trade-marks, etc., and to marks, devices, etc., upon cans and other vessels, and the making of a card index to the 3,200,000 entries of births, marriages and deaths from 1841 to 1880. Reports thereof appear in their appropriate places.

The office force for the year consisted of 27 clerks and 2 messengers — a reduction of one clerk. This number includes 8 clerks employed in the temporary work on the archives. In addition to this force 16 typewriters are employed under the contract for making the card index to the returns of births, marriages and deaths from 1841 to 1880. This makes a total number of 45 persons at present employed in the work of the office.

RECEIPTS AND EXPENSES.

The receipts from fees, etc., amounted to $51,481.13, and were from the following sources :—

Commissions,		$8,660 00
Corporation certificates,		20,896 20
Limited partnerships,		57 00
Licenses,		19,637 00
Sale of books, etc.,		183 51
Labels, trade-marks, etc.,		138 00
Miscellaneous, {	Certificates,	$593 25
	Revolutionary records,	632 00
	Copies,	684 17
		<hr/>
		1,909 42
		$51,481 13

These fees were paid into the treasury monthly, and a quarterly report thereof was made to the Governor and Council, as required by law.

The expenses for regular salaries were $24,530, and for temporary clerks as follows :—

Publication of the Early Laws,	$1,200 00
Publication of the Revolutionary Rolls,	4,800 00
Indexing corporation returns,	600 00

— a total of $6,600 for temporary clerks, and a grand total of $31,130. The incidental expenses of the office amounted to $4,018. This amount, however, includes a special expenditure of $636 for parchment, sufficient for two years' supply.

COMMISSIONS.

The number of commissions issued was 1,951, of which 219 were without fee. The different classes were as follows :—

Justices of the peace,	1,345
Notaries public,	339
Trustees, commissioners, etc.,	140
Massachusetts commissioners in other States,	26
Trial justices,	25
Justices and special justices, municipal, district and police courts,	15
Masters in chancery,	13
Justices of the peace to issue warrants and take bail,	9
Clerks of courts,	9
District police,	8
Commissioners to qualify civil officers,	8

Special commissioners,	5
Medical examiners,	5
Judges of probate and insolvency,	2
Pilots,	1
Associate justice, superior court,	1

Certificates to the number of 2,746 were issued, of which 373 were without fee.

I desire to call the attention of the Legislature to the expediency of prescribing by statute the time at which commissions shall take effect. The Constitution provides that “any person appointed or commissioned to any judicial, executive, military, or other office under the government, shall, before he enters on the discharge of the business of his place or office, take and subscribe” certain oaths. The law allows an appointee three months in which to take the required oaths, but under the present practice a commission takes effect upon its date, and it is nominally in force from such date, although the person holding it may not have been able to act thereunder for three months—an anomalous condition which it seems to me should be corrected as far as possible.

To this end I suggest the enactment of a law providing that all commissions shall take effect upon date of oath, unless some other day shall be specified in the commission.

CORPORATION DIVISION.

The total number of charters issued under general laws to new corporations was 492, classified as follows:—

Manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under P. S., chap. 106, sect. 21),	227
Religious, charitable, social, educational, musical, athletic, etc., corporations (under P. S., chap. 115, sect. 4),	180
Fraternal beneficiary corporations (under Acts of 1888, chap. 429, as amended),	38
Churches (under Acts of 1887, chap. 404),	27
Life and casualty insurance corporations (under Acts of 1890, chap. 421),	7
Street railway corporations (under P. S., chap. 113),	5
Libraries (under P. S., chap. 40),	3
Co-operative banks (under P. S., chap. 117),	2
Mutual insurance companies (under Acts of 1887, chap. 214),	2
Masonic association, reorganized (under P. S., chap. 115, sect. 13),	1

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and recorded was 2,533. Of these, 1,733 were certificates of condition (under section 54, chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 227 were certificates of organization of manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); 180 were certificates of religious, charitable and other organizations (under chapter 115 of the Public Statutes); 201 were certificates of payment of capital in manufacturing and mercantile corporations (under chapter 106 of the Public Statutes); and the remainder were distributed among sixteen different classes.

The number of miscellaneous certificates filed and not recorded is 646, of which 616 were certificates of condition of foreign corporations, and the remainder were divided among four other classes.

There were issued 18 certificates of change of name of corporations.

Returns were received of the dissolution of 32 corporations by the Supreme Judicial Court.

Details of all these statistics appear in the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations published by this office (Public Document, No. 10).

Limited partnership certificates to the number of 57 were filed and recorded.

The work of preparing a card index to the corporation returns is progressing rapidly and favorably. The extent of the work has proved greater than at first appeared, and a small additional appropriation will be necessary to complete it.

LABELS, TRADE-MARKS, ETC.

By an act of 1893, chapter 443, entitled "An Act to protect persons, associations or unions of persons in their labels, trade-marks and forms of advertising," the duty was placed upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth of receiving, filing and recording such labels, etc., and of issuing certificates of such filing and recording.

Under this law labels, trade-marks, etc., have been received and certificates issued in 69 cases.

MARKS AND DEVICES ON CANS, ETC.

By chapter 440 of the Acts of 1893, entitled “An Act to protect the owners of cans, bottles, boxes, siphons and fountains used in the sale of milk, cream, soda water, mineral and aerated waters, ale, beer, ginger ale or other beverages,” it is made the duty of the Secretary to receive and file descriptions of marks, devices, etc., and under this law 42 such descriptions were received and filed.

REGISTRATION RETURNS.

The returns of births, marriages and deaths from the various cities and towns for the year 1892, which were received in 1893, cover 65,824 births, 22,507 marriages and 48,762 deaths — a total number of 137,093. This is an increase over the returns received in 1892 of 2,820 births, 832 marriages and 3,577 deaths. It is apparent from a comparison of the relative increase of returns of births and deaths that a great many births escape registration and return.

The medical examiners' returns cover 2,210 cases — an increase of 370 over the returns received in 1892.

The returns by the clerks of the courts of the decrees of divorce number 837 — an increase of 19 over the last returns.

All of these figures are compiled and presented fully in the Fifty-first Registration Report (Public Document No. 1).

Four hundred and ninety-nine certificates of records of births, marriages and deaths were issued, principally for use in State aid and pension claims.

Upon a petition of the Boston section of the Massachusetts Medical Society, the question of transferring the preparation of the Registration Report from this office to that of the State Board of Health was brought before the Legislature of 1893. The matter was referred to the joint standing committee on public health. After a full hearing the committee reported unanimously against the proposed change, and this report was adopted by the Legislature.

INDEX TO EARLY REGISTRATION RETURNS.

In accordance with a recommendation in the last annual report of this office, the Legislature of 1893, by chapter 31 of its Resolves, authorized the preparation of a card index to the registration returns for the period between the years 1841 and 1880, to supersede the present imperfect and practically useless index. This is a work of great magnitude, covering about 3,200,000 names, and it was estimated that it would require about three years for its completion. Very favorable arrangements have been made, however, a large and efficient force has been employed, and the work is progressing with such rapidity that it seems entirely practicable, and would certainly be most economical, to finish it during the year 1894. I therefore recommend the continuance of the unexpended balance of the $10,000 appropriated in 1893, together with an additional appropriation of $17,000, to complete the index in accordance with the original estimate of cost.

ARCHIVE DIVISION.

Work has been prosecuted on the compilation of the Revolutionary Rolls and in the examination and arrangement of a large mass of miscellaneous papers which are to be incorporated in the body of the archives, under a system adopted after conference with the Archive Commissioners. In the compilation of the Revolutionary Rolls, the names found in the Drake collection, purchased under an act of 1893, have been added, making the total number of entries transcribed nearly 525,000. These cards are now ready for the printer. Since the completion of this compilation, however, over 350 rolls, lists, etc., have been discovered among the miscellaneous papers under examination, covering some 40,000 names, which will be transcribed and embodied in the regular compilation.

Thus about 65,000 entries will have been transcribed in addition to those in the archives as they existed prior to the beginning of this work.

If the presence of such a mass of Revolutionary Rolls among these miscellaneous papers had been known, much time and labor might have been saved by assorting and embodying them in the regular compilation while that work was in progress. It is a matter of congratulation, however, that they have been discovered before the printing of the work; otherwise it would have been necessary to prepare and print an appendix, in order to present a complete record.

The addition of the Drake collection and of the miscellaneous rolls recently discovered necessarily increases the cost of the compilation, and I therefore ask for an additional appropriation of $1,000.

DOCUMENT DIVISION.

There were printed, under the direction of this office, during the year, in the Public Document series (numbering forty-six different reports), 147,750 volumes—an increase of over 3,500 volumes. Of this number, 72,094 volumes were handled and distributed in the document division, being supplied to cities and towns, public officers, libraries and to the public.

In addition to the Public Document series, there were printed, received and distributed 25,000 copies of the pamphlet edition of the Laws, 8,500 copies of the Blue Book, and there were also received and distributed 1,550 copies of the Manual for the General Court, 1,608 copies of the term reports, 630 copies of the Senate and House Journals, 9,000 copies of the Metropolitan Park Commissioners' Report, 5,000 copies of the Highway Commissioners' Report, 2,500 copies of the Report of the Commission on Manual Training and Industrial Education, and 1,000 copies of the volume of Changes of Names, making a grand total of 126,882 volumes which passed through the document division during the year—an increase of nearly seven thousand volumes over the preceding year.

It seems desirable at the present time to revise the law in relation to the printing and distribution of reports of boards, public officers, commissioners, etc., so as to include in the Public Document series all reports of permanent officers or boards, and to provide that hereafter such reports shall be added to the Public Document series. At present some reports of permanent boards are made to the Legislature and become Senate or House Documents, and are not, therefore, distributed in the same manner as the Public Document series.

A revision of the law as suggested would secure a uniform distribution of all regular reports.

REGIMENTAL HISTORIES.

A new duty was placed upon the office by chapter 413 of the Acts of 1893, entitled "An Act to authorize the purchase of historical works relative to the services of Massachusetts volunteers during the late war." This act provides that the Secretary shall purchase 500 copies each of such histories of Massachusetts regiments or batteries as may be approved for such purchase by the Governor and Council, and under its provisions histories of the Thirteenth, Fifty-second and Fifty-fourth Regiments have been purchased. One other regimental history has been submitted which did not receive the required approval, and the history of a light battery is in process of preparation.

STATE PRINTING.

An Act of 1893 (chapter 287) provides that the Secretary of the Commonwealth shall, in addition to his other duties, supervise the State printing. I have accordingly inspected the State printing office from time to time, observing the manner in which the work has been performed and being constantly in communication with the State printers.

The largest item of expense during the year was that for the series of Public Documents, amounting to $50,978. These documents (46 in number) ranged in cost from over $6,000 each, which was paid for the Health Report and that of the Board of Agriculture, to less than $20. The total number of pages was 11,296.

Other large items were: House Documents, bills, etc., $16,390; Senate Documents, bills, etc., $12,074; and the printing of official ballots, etc., $8,472.49.

The subject of reducing the bulk, and consequently the cost, of some of these Public Documents is one which I commend to the attention of the Legislature, with the view of confining the reports of public officers within reasonable limits.

EARLY LAWS.

By chapter 104 of the Resolves of 1889, the Secretary is required to collate, index and publish, in a style similar to that of the Blue Book, so called, all the acts and resolves of the General Court, from the adoption of the Constitution to the year 1806, the purpose being to have a complete and uniform set of the Acts and Resolves. Volume four, covering the period of 1786–87, is now in print, excepting the index, and will soon be issued. A portion of the fifth volume is in hand and it is expected to complete the volume during the current year. As was stated in the report of last year, this work is not merely a reprinting of the laws from the old pamphlet edition. All acts and resolves are taken from original sources, and many resolves which have but recently been discovered in the archives are added.

PUBLICATION OF SPECIAL LAWS.

Chapter 26 of the Resolves of 1888 provided for the collation and publication of the special acts passed from the year 1882 to 1888, inclusive, in a volume uniform with the previous volumes of the special acts.

There has been a sufficient accumulation since 1889 to require the publication of another volume, including the special acts passed from 1889 to 1893, inclusive, and I recommend, therefore, the passage of a Resolve providing for 1,500 copies of the new volume, to be printed and distributed in the same manner as provided in the Resolve of 1889.

ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT OF CONSTITUTION.

The original manuscript of the Constitution of the Commonwealth, in the custody of this office, is in such a condition that, in my judgment, it should be copied without delay. In several places the ink has faded so as to be hardly visible.

I suggest, therefore, that the Secretary be authorized to have a perfect copy made, to be duly attested by him, and to have the same force and effect as the original.

CHANGED NAMES.

The return of 307 names changed as decreed by the several judges of probate were received and published in the Blue Book, in compliance with the requirements of section 14, chapter 148, of the Public Statutes.

In compliance with chapter 191 of the Acts of 1893, a list of persons whose names have been changed for the entire period from 1780 to 1892, together with a classified index, was printed, electrotyped and 1,000 copies issued.

PEDDLERS' LICENSES.

There were issued to hawkers and peddlers, under the provisions of chapter 68 of the Public Statutes, 1,813 licenses—a decrease of 54 over the previous year. Of this number, 359 were for the State, 784 for counties, 403 for cities and towns, and 267 for cities and towns in which the applicant resided and paid taxes upon his stock in trade. There were also issued 865 free licenses to soldiers and sailors, and 34 free licenses to persons seventy years of age or upward.

Two licenses were issued to itinerant vendors, under the act of 1890. The number of transfers of licenses was 136.

RETURNS UNDER THE "LOBBY ACT."

Under the Lobby Act (chapter 446 of 1890, as amended by chapter 223 of 1891) 323 entries were made upon the docket of legislative counsel and agents. Returns were received at this office covering 290 of these entries. Of those received, it became the duty of the Secretary to transmit 23 to the Attorney-General for his information, 8 of them being irregular or defective, and the others being received after the expiration of the time limit. The ten delinquent cases were also reported to the Attorney-General, as required by law.

It will be observed that this law requires that the docket in which entries are made shall be kept in the office of the Sergeant-at-Arms, while parties employing counsel or agents registered in the docket are required to make their reports to the Secretary of the Commonwealth. In order to know whether all returns are made which should be made it is proper that the Secretary should have possession and custody of the dockets; and I therefore suggest such an amendment to the law as will transfer the dockets from the office of the Sergeant-at-Arms to the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

ELECTIONS.

All statements and suggestions referring to elections appear, as required by law, in connection with the Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters, etc., as Public Document, No. 43. Under the provisions of chapter 416, Acts of 1892, entitled "An Act to prevent corrupt practices in elections and to provide for publicity of election expenses," 370 duplicate returns were received from city and town clerks and placed on file. The number of these returns in 1892 was 805, showing a decrease of 435 for 1893.

PROCLAMATIONS.

The usual Thanksgiving, Fast Day and Arbor Day proclamations by His Excellency the Governor were printed and distributed under the direction of this office. Of the Thanksgiving and Fast Day proclamations, 2,076 were sent by mail to churches and 80 to institutions; and of the Arbor Day proclamations, 1,027 were distributed by mail.

PARDONS, REQUISITIONS, ETC.

The number of pardons made out and issued in 1893 was 46; the number of requisitions upon other states, 34; warrants issued upon requisitions from other states, 12; transfers from prisons, etc., to lunatic hospitals, 10; respites, 2; habitual criminal permit, 1.

INSOLVENCY RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 143, chapter 157 of the Public Statutes, the returns of 833 cases of insolvent debtors were received during the year from the several judges of the courts of insolvency, and entered in this office for convenient reference.

NATURALIZATION RETURNS.

Under the provisions of section 5, chapter 345 of the Acts of 1885, returns were received of the naturalization of 6,581 persons before the various courts of the Commonwealth, an increase of 3,791. These are, as required by law, indexed and bound in convenient form for reference.

ASSESSORS' RETURNS.

The assessors of the city of Boston are required to deposit in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, on or before the first day of November every third year, a certified copy, under oath, of their books of those years. It appears that this requirement of law has not been complied with for many years. Compliance has been found to be impracticable owing to the enormous labor of transcribing the records, nor has it been insisted upon by the authorities at the State House, for the reason that the original books are easily accessible at the City Hall, and all information desired by the Tax Commissioner has been promptly furnished.

I suggest, therefore, for the consideration of the Legislature, the exemption of the city of Boston from the provisions of section 55 of chapter 11 of the Public Statutes, so far as they apply to depositing copies of the assessors' books in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

RETURNS OF QUALIFYING OFFICERS.

The law provides at present that commissioners to qualify civil officers shall, upon administering an oath, forthwith make return of such act, with the date thereof, to the Secretary of the Commonwealth; but there are other officers authorized by law to administer qualifying oaths who are not required to make such returns, and cases have occurred in which the clerk of a court has been qualified without any return of the qualification being made to this office.

I recommend, therefore, the enactment of a law subjecting all officers authorized to administer qualifying oaths to the same requirement as to returns of their acts as are imposed upon qualifying commissioners.

MISCELLANEOUS.

As required by law, the return of the Surveyor-General of Lumber of the various kinds and quantities of lumber surveyed and the amount of fees received by him and his deputies in the year 1892 was received and filed. The return of the Inspector-General of Fish was received and published in the Boston "Daily Advertiser" for Feb. 23, 1893.

The special reports in the Public Document series which the Secretary of the Commonwealth is now required by law to make are four in number, namely: Returns of Births, Marriages and Deaths, etc. (Public Document, No. 1); Aggregates of Polls, Property, Taxes, etc., as assessed May 1, throughout the Commonwealth (Public Document, No. 19); Returns of Assessed Polls, Registered Voters and Persons who voted at the Several Elections during the Year (Public Document, No. 43); and the Abstract of Certificates of Corporations (Public Document, No. 10). It is therefore unnecessary in this report to do more than refer to these documents.

Respectfully,

WM. M. OLIN,

Secretary of the Commonwealth.

and Dec. 31, 1892, there remained unsold $579,000. These have since been disposed of. Of the whole loan the sum of $4,044,526.82 had been expended up to the close of the present year. The balance ($955,473.92) is held in cash on deposit in bank to meet the expenses as authorized by the commissioners.

The requirements of the sinking fund and for interest payments have been assessed on the several cities and towns, in accordance with findings of the court. It was provided in the law that premiums received on the sale of the bonds should go towards the payment of interest, instead of becoming the nucleus of a sinking fund, as is usually provided, and this has rendered an interest tax unnecessary until the present year, the earnings of the unexpended balances being also devoted to this purpose. The total amount of premiums received on the whole loan was $138,300.30.

It is not unlikely that more money will be needed to complete the work. This loan is not properly a part of the regular public debt, the Commonwealth acting virtually as the agent of the cities and towns for whose benefit the money is borrowed and expended, both principal and interest of which they are to pay.

PRISON AND HOSPITAL LOAN.

The several loans established for the building of the State lunatic hospitals and the State prisons are all treated together under one head. The several loans mature at varying periods beginning Jan. 1, 1894, when $650,000 is to be paid, and will have been paid before this report is issued. Another instalment of $250,000 falls due July 1, 1894, the payment of which is already provided for. The great bulk of the loan matures in 1895 and 1896, and the sinking fund will be inadequate to meet the payments then due. If the loan did not mature until 1900 or later, the excess of earnings of the sinking fund of the Boston, Hartford and Erie loan would make good all its deficiencies. It may be necessary, as I think it would be expedient, to transfer a part of the Hartford and Erie fund, in anticipation of its actual excess of the amount needed to meet its own obligations, to the Prison and Hospital sinking fund. This is the spirit, if not the letter, of the Act of 1891 (chapter 259) heretofore cited, but further legislation may be needed. Under the Act referred to, there has been transferred to this sinking fund from the Boston, Hartford and Erie $659,460.00, and from the Bounty $128,900.00. This makes a total of $788,360.00 added to this sinking fund from other funds.

STATE HOUSE CONSTRUCTION LOAN.

At the close of last year there was an unexpended balance^a of this loan of $1,243,753.45. This has been drawn upon during the year to meet the expenses of the construction of the State House Extension, leaving unexpended Dec. 31, 1893, $704,568.09. If the recommendations of the Commissioners are carried out, further additions to this loan must be authorized.

The income of the unexpended balance has been paid into the sinking fund of the loan, which on Dec. 31, 1893, amounted to $576,060.60. The annual requirements of the sinking fund are paid from the revenue of the Commonwealth under an annual appropriation.

STATE HOUSE LOAN, 1901.

This loan was established by chapter 349 of the Acts of 1888 to provide for the purchase of land for the State House Extension, and $500,000 was authorized, and bonds to that amount were sold the same year. By chapter 300 of the Acts of 1889, a further loan of $130,000 additional was authorized for the same purpose, and the bonds were sold June 18 of that year. By chapter 404 of the Acts of 1892, the taking of more land was authorized; and by chapter 438 of same year an addition to the loan of a sum necessary to pay for such land was authorized. Bonds were sold during the year to the amount of $200,000, making the total loan Dec. 31, 1892, $830,000. By chapter 129 of the Acts of 1893, the improvement of the grounds around the State House was provided for, and by chapter 450 of the same year the taking of still more land was authorized. By chapter 325 of the Acts of 1893, it was provided that a sum not exceeding $325,000 might be expended in fitting and furnishing the rooms in the extension, to be paid out of the loan of 1901, and $605,000 more bonds were accordingly sold, making the total loan, up to the close of 1893, $1,435,000.

The sinking fund, Dec. 31, 1893, amounted to $177,861.93, and, as in case of the preceding loan, the annual requirements of the sinking fund are met by appropriation from revenue.

• TROY AND GREENFIELD RAILROAD LOAN.

The successive loans made to pay for the building of the Hoosac Tunnel and Troy & Greenfield Railroad have gradually been paid off as they have matured, $200,000 having fallen due and been paid April 1, the present year, $400,000 July 1, and $550,000 more Oct. 1, making in all $1,150,000 paid this year. The sinking fund is more than sufficient to meet the further instalments of the loan, now that it has been provided that the Fitchburg Railroad bonds shall be purchased out of the fund at par, as provided by chapter 408 of the Acts of 1893. The details of this arrangement will be found under the head of "Fitchburg Railroad Securities Loan."

The bulk of the Troy & Greenfield loan matures in 1895, the bonds, amounting to $370,000, maturing in 1897 being already in the sinking fund.

FITCHBURG RAILROAD SECURITIES LOAN.

A proposition was made in the Legislature of 1893 to provide that the securities of the Fitchburg Railroad held by the Commonwealth, and which were taken in payment for the Hoosac Tunnel and Troy & Greenfield Railroad, should be put in charge of a special committee for the purpose of having the stock voted, whenever occasion might arise, in the interest of the Commonwealth, it being claimed that there was danger of some interest adverse to Massachusetts securing control of the road, and that the State should take all possible precaution against this.

These securities consist of $5,000,000 of bonds and $5,000,000 of common stock of the road. These bonds were issued Feb. 1, 1887, and run fifty years, maturing

Feb. 1, 1937. The first five years they bore but 3 per cent. interest. The second five years they bear $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. interest. For the remaining forty years, beginning Feb. 1, 1897, they will bear interest at 4 per cent. The common stock is an asset of the Troy & Greenfield sinking fund, but is carried as of no value. What it is worth is very uncertain, but it has some value.

With the proposition referred to, which was made in the Legislature, was another that the bonds might be exchanged for preferred stock. To this the Treasurer strenuously objected, as an evident impairment of the sinking fund, and an unwise change on every ground.

Originally both the bonds and stock were all made a part of the Troy & Greenfield Railroad sinking fund. As that loan was payable at various times, money was required to meet the maturing bonds. In 1889 the amount paid was $2,153,912.90. In 1890 another instalment of $305,129.55 was paid. In 1891 there was paid a further amount of $3,834,742.75. To provide these large amounts of money it was necessary to dispose of some of the Fitchburg Railroad bonds to other funds having cash, and the distribution was made as follows:—

Boston, Hartford & Erie Railroad sinking fund,	$500,000 00
Bounty,	1,000,000 00
Massachusetts school fund,	1,000,000 00
Troy & Greenfield (remainder),	2,500,000 00
Total,	$5,000,000 00

This distribution gave the Bounty Loan sinking fund a million dollars' worth of these long securities, the cash for which must be had May 1, 1894. And it left in the Troy & Greenfield sinking fund \$2,500,000 of the same, which must be turned into cash on or before January and July, 1895. The bonds had yet over three years to run at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. Even in good times such a bond could not be sold at par, and it was uncertain what price could be obtained on such a market as existed. If the bonds could be held until they should bear interest at 4 per cent. they might be expected to be worth a hundred cents on the dollar.

In view of all these considerations, I recommended to the committee having the matter in charge the passage of an act authorizing the issue of a new loan of five million dollars, with which the Fitchburg bonds should be purchased at par from the several funds holding them, and that the bonds and the common stock should be set apart as a sinking fund for this new loan. This would enable the Commonwealth, without expense to itself, to carry the bonds until they should become 4 per cent. securities, and would be salable, if it was found necessary to sell them.

With these provisions was incorporated the suggestion of having a committee specially appointed as to voting the stock.

The act was passed and approved June 3, 1893, as follows:—

[CHAP. 408.]

AN ACT RELATING TO THE STOCK AND BONDS OF THE FITCHBURG RAILROAD COMPANY HELD BY THE COMMONWEALTH.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The treasurer and receiver general, as soon as practicable after the passage of this act, shall, under the direction of the governor and council, issue scrip or certificates of debt in the name and behalf of the Commonwealth, and under its seal, to an amount not exceeding five million dollars, for a term not exceeding twenty years. Said scrip or certificates of debt shall be issued as registered bonds or with interest coupons attached, and shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding four per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, in gold coin or its equivalent, on the first days of February and August in each year. Such scrip or certificates of debt shall be designated on their face as the Fitchburg Railroad Securities Loan; shall be countersigned by the governor, and shall be deemed a pledge of the faith and credit of the Commonwealth, redeemable at the time specified therein, in gold coin or its equivalent, and shall be sold and disposed of by public auction, or in such other mode, and at such times and prices, and in such amounts, and at such rate of interest, not exceeding four per centum per annum, as the governor and council shall deem best.

SECTION 2. The proceeds of the sales of the scrip or certificates of debt mentioned in section one shall be used to purchase at par, from the several funds of which they form a part, the bonds of the Fitchburg Railroad Company, which were received in payment for the Hoosac tunnel and Troy and Greenfield railroad ; which bonds so purchased together with the common stock of said Fitchburg Railroad Company, owned by the Commonwealth, shall be set apart as a fund to be known as the Fitchburg Railroad Securities sinking fund ; and said bonds and stock shall be held as a sinking fund to redeem the scrip or certificates of debt provided for in section one, at maturity.

SECTION 3. The income of said bonds and stock shall be devoted to the payment of the interest on said scrip or certificates of debt, and in case said income is more than sufficient in any year to pay said interest the excess shall be added to the income of the Massachusetts School fund for that year, and in case in any year the income is insufficient to pay said interest, the deficiency shall be payable from any money in the treasury, not otherwise appropriated.

SECTION 4. The sinking fund established by this act shall be in the custody of the treasurer and receiver general of the Commonwealth, as other funds, but the securities shall be under the direction and control of a committee consisting of the governor, the lieutenant governor and the treasurer and receiver general, who shall, in all cases wherein said securities have a voting power at any meeting of said corporation, determine by whom, and what way, such voting power shall be exercised. Said committee shall manage and control the common stock herein referred to for the best interests of the commonwealth and of the city of Boston, and particularly with a view to prevent the merging or consolidation of said railroad with, or its control by, any parallel or competing line, and to maintain the line of said company permanently as an independent line from Boston to points in New York state.

SECTION 5. The securities held in the sinking fund herein established shall not be sold or exchanged except by authority of the governor and council.

SECTION 6. This act shall take effect upon its passage. [Approved June 3, 1893.]

By the time the bill had become a law the money stringency had begun to be felt, and it was not considered expedient to offer the loan. It seemed best, however, early in December to put it upon the market, and proposals were advertised for, to be opened December 14, for twenty-year bonds, bearing interest at $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. per annum in gold coin or its equivalent. It had been hoped, when the act was passed, to issue a three per cent. bond, but there was no encouragement that it could be sold at par.

The bids were opened at noon December 14, and that of Drexel, Morgan & Co. of New York was found to be the highest, to wit: $1,031.77 and accrued interest from August 1, 1893, for each one thousand dollar bond for the whole loan. It was accordingly awarded to Drexel, Morgan & Co., and temporary receipts were issued for the bonds in anticipation of their printing, as the money was paid. Only $3,000,000 was paid for prior to December 31, but the balance is to be paid in early in January.

The premium on the bonds amounts to $158,850.00, which, under the general law, is added to the sinking fund.

The result of this transaction is simply to realize at once on the Fitchburg Railroad bonds and furnish the funds which held them with the money necessary to meet their obligations. The future value of the bonds is not certain, but it will not be changed by the transfer. They have always paid their interest promptly, and with no untoward occurrence, it seems the bonds should be finally worth par, if not more. Meantime, after Feb. 1, 1897, when the bonds are to bear 4 per cent. interest, the Commonwealth will actually make the difference between the $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. which it pays on its loan and the 4 per cent. which the road pays on the bonds, as well as the interest on \$158,850, the amount of premium received on its sale. This profit in interest, as the law provides, will be added to the annual income of the School Fund.

The sinking fund is also to contain the $5,000,000 of common stock of the Fitchburg road. This stock has sometimes been quoted as high as 22, I think, but probably no considerable offering would find a market. The suggestion has been made that the road might be willing to give preferred stock for it at some ratio, say one share for five, which would make the whole amount worth $800,000 to $900,000. If this should be done, the amount received for the bonds, which are now carried in the fund as of no value, would amply make good any probable deficiency in the price of the bonds, should they not appreciate to par.

LOAN FOR THE ABOLITION OF GRADE CROSSINGS.

This loan is authorized by chapter 463 of the Acts of 1890, which provides for a loan not to exceed five million dollars, from which not to exceed five hundred thousand dollars may be paid in any one year. This act is general, and is applicable to any city or town which may take advantage of its provisions. There was no money called for under it until 1892, when $87,056.29 was paid, and in 1893 the further sum of $96,141.97 has been paid. The law provided that these payments should be made from any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, but that the loan might be issued whenever directed by the Governor and Council. As so large special drafts on the regular revenue were deemed inexpedient, an Order of Council was adopted November 21, 1893, authorizing the treasurer to sell not exceeding one million dollars' worth of the bonds, in order to reimburse the revenue account for the money already expended, and to furnish funds to meet further decrees of court for expenses under the law. As the market was unfavorable at the time, only $400,000 of the bonds were sold.

The act is somewhat vague in its provisions, and it is uncertain whether it will allow an expenditure during the coming year of the unexpended balances of previous years' amount of $500,000 per year, or whether the total amount in any one year must be strictly limited to the specified half million. If the latter construction prevails, it may cause serious inconvenience in carrying on the work.

By chapter 283 of the Acts of 1893, the original act was so changed that the amounts payable by the cities and towns shall be advanced by the Commonwealth, and repaid by the cities and towns in such annual payments as the auditor of the Commonwealth may designate, the same to be assessed each year as a part of the State tax for the cities and towns to which it had been advanced, with interest at 4 per cent.

Chapter 433 of the Acts of 1892 provided for the abolition of certain grade crossings on the Boston & Providence Railroad, of the cost of which the Commonwealth is to repay to the railroad company 45 per cent., and for this a special loan is authorized. Of this amount the city of Boston is to repay to the Commonwealth 30 per cent. in twenty annual payments, "with interest at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum." This act should be so amended as to make the rate of interest 4 per cent., as provided in the general act for all other cities and towns. The city of Boston cannot fairly ask the State to borrow money and lend it to the city at a lower rate than the State is obliged to pay. If 4 per cent. is considered too high, the rate for all the cities and towns should be made the same, and not less than the cost of the money to the State.

The bonds authorized by the Governor and Council for this loan are $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. thirty-year bonds, payable Nov. 1, 1923. How large the loan will ultimately be will depend on the action of the legislature. But of the entire amount to be issued, only the percentage actually to be paid by the State, as fixed by the court, is properly to be considered as a part of the public debt.

MASSACHUSETTS SCHOOL FUND.

The transactions in this fund are all under the commissioners of the fund, the Secretary of the Board of Education and the Treasurer, who are required to make report to the legislature. The details are all a part of this report, however. As the report of the commissioners this year is of unusual scope, and as it is necessarily almost inseparable from the Treasurer's report, I have, with the consent of my associate, the Secretary of the Board of Education, determined to present that report herewith.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS OF THE MASSACHUSETTS SCHOOL FUND.

Under the law, the Secretary of the Board of Education and the Treasurer are Commissioners of the school fund. As both the commissioners are about to retire, they consider it not inappropriate that a brief account should be given of the management of the fund during the five years that they have been thus associated. This period has been one of unusual interest in the school fund, to all concerned in the distribution of its income, and it has been considerably increased in various ways, in amount, in income, and in efficiency.

It has been the constant aim of both the commissioners to make the fund as strong and productive as possible, as well as to recommend such changes in the methods of distribution of the income as would aid the smaller and more heavily burdened towns in securing good schools. The legislation through which these ends have been sought has chiefly been enacted at the suggestion of one or the other of the commissioners, and they feel certain that it has accomplished much in the line desired.

The first suggestion as to strengthening the fund was made in the report of the Treasurer and Receiver-General for 1889, in which it was recommended that "any money likely to be received from the national government in refunding direct taxes paid by the Commonwealth, or any other funds which may be received, and which are not pledged to any particular use" should be turned into the school fund.

This suggestion was made with a view to the possible reception by the Commonwealth of an amount of money under a bill pending in Congress known as the "direct tax refund" bill, which provided for the repayment to the several states of certain direct taxes paid to the general government during the war. The following bill was drawn by the Treasurer, was reported favorably by the committees to which it was referred, and was approved May 23, 1890. In addition to the provision relating to money received, a second section was added which allows the investment of a fund, with the payment from revenue, instead of from the fund, of any premium on securities purchased. This, as will be seen, secures to the fund the full rate of interest named in the note or bond, and thus enhances its income. The bill as passed was as follows:—

AN ACT RELATING TO THE MASSACHUSETTS SCHOOL FUND.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:—

SECTION 1. Any moneys which may hereafter be received into the treasury of the Commonwealth from the general government, the disposition of which is not otherwise provided for, shall be paid into the Massachusetts School Fund.

SECT. 2. In investing the Massachusetts school fund there may be paid from any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated the premiums on any securities which may be purchased for said fund: provided, that the aggregate amount so paid shall not in any one year exceed the sum of fifty thousand dollars.

In a general way the income of the fund may be said to be diminishing, year by year. That is, investments made years ago when five, six and even seven per cent. were paid on municipal loans, as fast as they mature are necessarily replaced by investments on which four per cent. commands a considerable premium. The earning capacity of the fund, therefore, dollar for dollar, has steadily diminished. But the measures above referred to, by increasing the principal, and providing for premiums from a source outside the fund, largely enhanced the earning capacity of the fund, as the following table of annual income for five years will show : —

YEAR.										Income.
1889,	$128,702 18
1890,	130,318 30
1891,	138,625 68
1892,	167,229 65
1893,	168,258 23

But this is not all that has been done to enhance the school fund. At the suggestion of the treasurer, an act was passed by the Legislature of 1893, which will in time give a considerable advantage to the fund. The reasons for passing this act (chap. 308, Acts 1893) are given in the treasurer's report, and need not be repeated here. But the relations of the act to the school fund are these: The Fitchburg Railroad bonds, which are purchased out of the several funds by which they were held, bear $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. interest for three years from next February, and after that 4 per cent. There are \$5,000,000 of these bonds, and the money borrowed, under the act referred to, to buy them with bears $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. interest. The interest of the Fitchburg bonds, under the law, goes to pay the interest on the loan, and any excess above the amount required to pay this is to be added to the income of the school fund. After Feb. 1, 1897, when the railroad bonds bear 4 per cent. interest, the excess should be \$25,000 a year, and if the \$5,000,000 common stock, now carried in the sinking fund of the new loan as of no value, should be sold, or exchanged for preferred stock or bonds, the amount would be somewhat increased.

Besides this, the law provides for paying the school fund par for a million dollars' worth of bonds which cost it but $850,000, and so makes all its principal at once worth more than par.

So much for the financial management of the school fund, which the commissioners believe to have been wise and advantageous. It is true that, so far as the income of the fund has been enhanced by advantages gained from the revenue of the Commonwealth, it has been virtually a change from one pocket to another. But as for the moiety of the income distributed to the towns, it is a direct and much needed benefit which the treasury can afford to furnish. And as to the moiety available for educational expenses, it simply renders the necessary appropriations from the treasury so much less than they otherwise would be.

In 1888, the income of the school fund was divided, according to the enactment of 1884, into two equal parts. One-half was applied to general educational purposes, and the other half was distributed among the towns of the Commonwealth not exceeding $10,000,000 in valuation. The distribution was as follows:—

1. Towns whose valuation did not exceed $500,000 received $300 per annum.

2. Towns whose valuation exceeded $500,000, and did not exceed $1,000,000, received $200.

3. Towns whose valuation exceeded $1,000,000, and did not exceed $3,000,000, received $150.

4. The residue of the half of the income was distributed to towns not exceeding $10,000,000 in valuation in the ratio of their population between five and fifteen years of age.

The law was amended in 1891. The classification of towns among which one-half of the income was to be distributed was continued; the valuation of towns to receive it was restricted to those not exceeding $3,000,000. The basis of distribution was so changed that after certain lump sums were given to the four classes of towns, the residue of the half of the income was apportioned to the towns in the four classes according to the ratio of the school tax to their whole tax. The distribution of the lump sums was essentially as in the law of 1884.

The residue of the half of the income was limited to towns whose school tax was not less than one-sixth of their whole tax, and was made as follows:—

1. Towns whose school tax was not less than one-third of their whole tax were to receive a proportion expressed by the fraction one-third.

2. Towns whose school tax was not less than one-fourth of their whole tax were to receive a proportion expressed by the fraction one-fourth.

3. Towns whose school tax was not less than one-fifth of their whole tax were to receive a proportion expressed by the fraction one-fifth.

4. Towns whose school tax was not less than one-sixth of their whole tax were to receive a proportion expressed by the fraction one-sixth.

In other words, the ratio of the distribution of the residue among these several classes of towns was to be as 20, 15, 12 and 10.

The general principle upon which the recent amendments have been made, is that the half of the income applied directly to the schools shall be given to the towns of low valuation in the direct ratio to the ratio their school tax bears to the whole tax, and in the inverse ratio to the valuation of the towns.

These changes in the law originated with the secretary of the Board of Education, and the details were mainly worked out by him, and by Mr. Walton, an agent of the Board. The design was to distribute the school fund among the smaller towns, and in such manner that those most burdened by taxation, and most liberal in their expenditures for public schools, should get the largest proportional benefit.

The fund ought to be still further increased, at least until it reaches four million dollars.

OTHER TRUST FUNDS.

The other trust funds are the Harbor Compensation fund, the Rogers book fund, the Technical Education fund, and the Todd Normal School fund, and they are nearly all invested. They are of comparatively small amounts.

TRUST DEPOSITS.

The total amount of trust deposits in the treasury, Dec. 31, 1892, was $4,964,507.17, belonging to sixty-seven different corporations. The amount Dec. 31, 1893, was $3,300,132.12 belonging to forty-six different corporations. The decrease in both amount and number of depositors is due to the winding up of most of the so-called "endowment orders." There yet remains a considerable number of these orders still having deposits in the treasury, although they are in the hands of receivers. There are, besides those which come under the classification of endowment orders, thirty-six organizations of a permanent character which are obliged by law to make deposits in this department. The labor and responsibility in caring for these deposits are great, and the winding up of the organizations which have ceased business has made more work, for the time being, than the care of the securities did before.

In order to avoid the accumulation of uncertain securities, whose value the treasurer, of necessity, could not definitely know, I suggested in my last report the passage of an act providing that hereafter no mortgages of real estate or personal notes with collateral should be legal securities for such deposits. This law was passed, and is now in force.

TEMPORARY LOANS.

During the year the rate of interest on short loans has been abnormally high until recently. I have therefore secured temporary funds, in anticipation of revenue, from the State House and Sewerage loans at the rate of 3 per cent., which was about the same as the banks paid on balances.

COLLATERAL LEGACY AND SUCCESSION TAX.

The entire amount collected in taxes under this act (chap. 425, Acts 1891) up to Dec. 31, 1892, was $13,854.54. The amount collected in 1893 was $59,429.31. The law is full of vague and uncertain provisions, and nearly every estate taxed raises new questions, some of which are exceedingly puzzling. If a tax on collateral legacies and successions is just and equitable, I cannot see why all other legacies and successions are not equally legitimate objects of taxation. But however this may be, the law should be plain and intelligible in its provisions.

I most earnestly renew my recommendation of last year, that the law plainly provide for the assessment of all taxes under this act by the probate courts, and either collected by said courts and turned over to the treasury, or certified to the treasurer in each case for collection.

The points in which the law should be changed to make it more clear and easily understood can best be determined by a committee of the legislature.

CONSCIENCE MONEY.

On the 11th of May, 1893, two letters reached the treasury, both anonymous, and one of them bearing no date. The other was dated May 10, 1893, and it said: "The enclosed one hundred and seventy dollars ($170.00) please add to the Treasury of the state, as it belongs there." The undated one read as follows: "The money which you will find enclosed will you be kind enough to put in the Massachusetts State Treasury ($130.00) one hundred and thirty dollars, and oblige."

There was an evident purpose to make it seem that the letters were written by different persons, but I do not think they were. I did not enter them in the books, or say anything about receiving them except to the first clerk and the cashier, thinking some clue might be got as to their origin, but nothing has been heard concerning them, and the money has been turned in to the treasury. During my administration of the treasury, there has been only one shortage known except such petty discrepancies as are found from time to time in all financial institutions, and in which the surplus, as a rule, offsets the deficiencies. The shortage referred to occurred in June, 1890, when the late Mr. Phippen was cashier, and was probably due to an inadvertent duplicate payment, though this is only a surmise. Mr. Phippen was the most careful and conscientious of men, and while the error may have occurred in his absence, when somebody else was in charge of his desk, it was found that before his death he had repaid the amount to the cash.

Whether this $300 received had any connection with this shortage I cannot say, or whether it is paid to make good some other real or fancied wrong done the treasury. I understand that in former years the receipt of what is known as "conscience money" has sometimes occurred.

DEPUTY SEALER OF WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

The report of the deputy sealer of weights and measures shows the work which has been performed by him during the year. Under the new law, this department of service is more intelligently and faithfully performed than before, and I think much more satisfactorily to the cities and towns.

MY ASSOCIATES IN THE TREASURY.

I cannot leave the department after so long a period of service without saying, in behalf of my associates in the office, that as a rule I have found them faithful, industrious and efficient. Without such service the administration of the department would be a most difficult as well as a disagreeable task. With such a force of clerks, on whose honesty and fidelity and industry the treasurer must rely, the office is not an unpleasant one to administer. It has been the tradition of the department to retain tried and efficient assistants, and to this policy, I think, is due much of the success with which the financial affairs of the Commonwealth have always been managed. And I do not hesitate to say that their service is by no means adequately paid in comparison with positions of much less responsibility and rank in other financial institutions.

OPERATIONS IN 1894.

Under the constitution the term of the treasurer, as of all other heads of departments, ends on the third Wednesday in January. The peculiar condition of things at the close of 1893 has rendered the operations of the outgoing treasurer much more extensive than otherwise have been the case. The details of these transactions will not appear until next year's report, but it may not be improper for me, under the circumstances, to say that the balance of the money for the Fitchburg Railroad Securities Loan has been received, extensive transfers of securities from one fund to another to fit them to the maturing dates of loans, and the purchase of new securities to invest the money thus added to the funds, which could not be attended to until the money had been received, have been accomplished since the new year came in, leaving all departments of the treasury, I think, in excellent shape for my successor.

The details of the transactions for the year 1893 may be found in the tables and schedules herewith subjoined.

AUDITOR'S DEPARTMENT, BOSTON, Jan. 30, 1894.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives.

I have the honor to present the forty-fifth annual report of this department, it being for the year ending Dec. 31, 1893.

ARRANGEMENT OF THE REPORT.

The report is in two parts. Part I. exhibits, summarily and in detail, the revenue transactions of the year, tabulated and arranged in exact conformity to the requirements of chapter 16 of the Public Statutes.

Part II. shows, in like manner, the transactions on account of the several sinking funds; also of the trust and other funds, and contains full information upon all matters of public interest relating to the funded debt, and first of revenue transactions.

REVENUE RECEIPTS AND PAYMENTS.

The receipts and payments on account of revenue for the year, including cash in the treasury, are shown in the following statement: —

Cash in the treasury Jan. 1, 1893,	$868,024 02
Cash received during the year,	13,236,635 92
						<hr/>
Total,	$14,104,659 94
Payments during the year,	12,660,967 06
						<hr/>
Cash in the treasury Jan. 1, 1894,	$1,443,692 88

These aggregates are analyzed, detailed and tabulated, in compliance with the law, in the following numbered statements : —

STATEMENT No. I. is a general exhibit of the receipts and payments.

STATEMENT No. II. shows the sources of the revenue.

STATEMENT No. III. shows the revenue receipts in detail.

STATEMENT No. IV. shows the revenue payments for the year.

STATEMENT No. V. shows the revenue and the expenses, paid and unpaid, in 1892 and 1893.

STATEMENT No. VI. shows the expenses properly belonging to the years 1892 and 1893, with the appropriations for 1893.

STATEMENT No. VII. shows the expenses of 1893 in detail.

ESTIMATED AND ACTUAL REVENUE.

In the following table the estimated revenue of 1893, the amount actually received and the sources from which it was derived are given : —

Totals,	$4,077,794 48	$4,585,454 01
Cash in the treasury Jan. 1, 1893,	—	868,024 02
Direct tax, so far as was paid Dec. 31, 1893,	—	2,489,425 00
Actual revenue, 1893,	—	$7,942,903 03

The foregoing table is made from Statement No. I.

The actual revenue shows an excess over the estimates of $507,659.53. In explanation of this excess I would say that upon the issue of scrip for the abolition of grade crossings, the sum of $87,056.29 was refunded to the revenue, also $59,429.31 received on account of the Collateral Legacy tax, for which no estimate was made, and $40,996.60 received for accrued interest upon the issue of scrip for the Fitchburg Railroad Securities Loan. This will leave the excess $320,177.32. An inspection of this table will disclose the items from which the difference is made up.

The revenue in detail is shown in Statement No. III.

COMPARATIVE RESULTS.

The following is a summary of the expenses, paid and unpaid, belonging to the years 1892 and 1893, so far as they have been presented, or are known to this department: —

	1892.	1893.
Ordinary expenses,	$2,903,822 64	$2,978,571 08
Exceptional expenses,	9,042,143 76	9,622,006 05
Totals,	$11,945,966 40	$12,600,577 13

Deduct taxes of corporations, national banks, etc., distributed to cities and towns, etc., under the law, $3,454,660 24 $3,391,527 48

Deduct also — Sterling interest, temporary loans, bonds redeemed, direct tax refunded, etc.,	2,286,981 38	2,709,568 60	5,741,641 62	6,101,096 08
Actual expenses,			$6,204,324 78	$6,499,481 05

These results may be changed to some extent by outstanding bills not yet presented to this department.

This statement shows that the actual expenses of 1893 exceeded those of 1892 by $295,156.27.

Statement No. V. may be consulted for further information on the subject.

GENERAL STATEMENT OF EXPENSES.

The expenses of 1893 are given in a general grouping, which embraces all the departments and the public purposes for which appropriations were made by the last Legislature.

	$893,599 78	$217,878 24	$725,002 03	$49,280 49

PRISON INDUSTRIES.

The State Prison at Boston (Charlestown district), the Massachusetts Reformatory at Concord and the Reformatory Prison for Women are the only State institutions in which the prisoners have been employed, under the requirements of chapter 447 of the Acts of 1887, and acts in amendment thereof, during the year 1893.

The results shown during the year ending Dec. 31, 1893, are as follows : —

Receipts from the industries,		$192,516 68
Expenses of the same,	$147,951 47
Salary of General Superintendent and other expenses for the work,	6,862 56
	 	154,814 03
Excess of receipts,		$38,202 65

The average number of prisoners in each institution for the year ending Sept. 30, 1893, was as follows : —

State Prison,	669
Massachusetts Reformatory,	954
Reformatory Prison for Women,	286

The net cost per week per capita was : —

Massachusetts Reformatory,	$3 80+
State Prison,	4 53+
Reformatory Prison for Women,	3 65+

The average number of persons in the other institutions named in the foregoing table, and the per capita expense per week for the year ending Sept. 30, 1893, were as follows : —

	Average Number.	Cost per Week.
State Primary School at Monson,	207	$4 41
State Industrial School for Girls at Lancaster,	95	4 02
Lyman School for Boys at Westborough,	226	4 31
State Almshouse at Tewksbury,	1,050	2 20
State Farm at Bridgewater,	786	1 99

The books and accounts of the eight institutions above named have been kept under the supervision of the Auditor since 1887, as is required by chapter 87 of the Acts of that year. Under the system adopted, very satisfactory results have been secured. The receipts and expenditures of each institution are entered in detail, and all information concerning the financial transactions therewith is easily obtained from the officer in charge.

The farm accounts required under the law indicate successful management, showing a profit in favor of the farm at the following institutions:—

At Monson,	$2,796 10
Westborough,	200 01
Lancaster,	1,860 77
Bridgewater,	5,921 61
Concord,	2,352 06
Sherborn,	2,771 36
Tewksbury,	3,807 85
Total,	$19,709 76

Acts 1891, chap. 384, provides that the accounts of the boarding houses of the State Normal Schools shall be kept under the direction of the Auditor of the Commonwealth in accordance with the provisions of chapter 87 of the Acts of 1887. I find the accounts in good condition, and a disposition on the part of the officers thereof to conform to the requirements of this office.

TROY & GREENFIELD RAILROAD AND HOOSAC TUNNEL.

The account of the Commonwealth with this enterprise is practically closed.

There still remain outstanding 870 shares of stock of the old company which the Commonwealth is authorized to buy at eight dollars per share. The transactions for 1893 were as follows:—

Paid interest on Troy and Greenfield Railroad Loan, .	$260,135 71
No receipts.
Net cost to Jan. 1, 1893,	$28,298,057 74
Add payments, 1893,	260,135 71
Net cost Jan. 1, 1894,	$28,558,193 45

Whenever the Commonwealth shall have realized on the bonds given, and the stock in her possession, received from the Fitchburg Railroad Company, to whom the road and tunnel was sold, with the interest on said bonds, the net cost of the enterprise will be materially reduced.

STATE AND MILITARY AID.

The following statements, showing the disbursements of State and Military Aid under chapters 301 and 279 of the Acts of the year 1889, were furnished by State Aid Commissioner, Capt. Charles W. Hastings.

The figures and statements cover the expenditures for 1892, — cities and towns being reimbursed from the treasury of the Commonwealth, on or before the first day of December in the year next after the year in which the expenditures are made.

Under chapter 301,	$482,394 17
Under chapter 279,	66,126 19
Total,	$548,520 36

Reimbursed to cities and towns (one-half the expense) on account of burial of soldiers and sailors, 304 cases, chapter 395, Acts of 1889,	5,295 87
Total for the year,	$553,816 23

The persons aided in 1892 under chapter 301 are classified as follows : —

Invalid pensioners,	4,983, an increase of	772
Wives of pensioners,	628, an increase of	32
Widows of soldiers and sailors,	4,516, an increase of	464
Widowed mothers,	627, a decrease of	22
Dependent fathers,	34, same as previous year.

10,788

Net increase of cases during 1892,	1,246
Average amount received by each person,	$44 70

The above figures show an increase of payments made to persons in 1892, under chapter 301, of $69,856.47, and an increase of 1,246 persons over the number aided in 1891.

As widows, otherwise eligible, are not now required to connect the death of their husbands with disease or disabilities incurred in the service, the number of cases in this class up to Dec. 31, 1892, have increased to 1,707, involving disbursements of nearly $82,800.

MILITARY AID TO INDIGENT SOLDIERS AND SAILORS.

Under the Act relating to Military Aid, chapter 279, Acts of 1889, there was disbursed to 1,550 soldiers and sailors the sum of $132,252.38, one-half of which sum ($66,126.19) was reimbursed by the State, a net decrease of $22,367.34 from the amount expended for the same class the preceding year.

This marked decrease was mostly caused by the men receiving United States pensions, rendering further aid under this statute unnecessary.

The Commissioners have now three agents who are constantly employed in visiting cities and towns, making thorough investigations in all cases where there is a doubt or uncertainty as to the justice or propriety of granting State Aid.

Their work is well done, producing satisfactory results. Hundreds of cases are examined at the Commissioners' office, which is totally inadequate in size and convenience for the work.

The medical examinations made by Surgeon General Kittredge in the 141 cases sent to him have been of very great value to the department, and his kindly demeanor toward sick and destitute applicants is held by them in grateful remembrance.

Number of cities and towns that paid State Aid in 1892, . . .	337
Number of cities and towns that paid Military Aid in 1892, . . .	240
Number of cities and towns that paid under both laws in 1892, . . .	238
Number of cities and towns that paid no aid under either law in 1892,	13

In accordance with the provisions of chapters 279 and 301 of the Acts of 1889, the payments of Military and State Aid to invalid pensioners and the dependent relatives of deceased soldiers and sailors will cease after Dec. 31, 1894,

ESTIMATES FOR 1894.

The estimates of the expenses for the current year are largely based upon the reports submitted to the Auditor by the officers and boards having charge of the several branches of the public service, under the provisions of chapter 41 of the Acts of 1885.

From the best information obtainable, the expenses in detail will be as follows:—

Total to be provided for by taxation,		$1,434,614 07

The amount to be provided for by taxation is less by $355,445 77 than was the amount as appears by the Auditor's estimates in 1893, and unless some extraordinary expenditures are authorized by the present Legislature a direct State tax of $2,000,000 will be ample for the expenditures of 1894.

It will be observed that there is included in the estimate of expenses a large item of $1,011,000 unexpended appropriations, a large proportion of which will be needed during the present year in meeting outstanding claims. Such appropriations are available for two political years and are required to form a part of the Auditor's estimates.

Some of the expenditures for which appropriations were made in 1893, remaining unexpended Dec. 31, 1893, are as follows : —

Salaries and other expenses for December but paid in January, 1894,	$384,245 07

Support and burial of State paupers to cities and towns,	29,758 00

There are other appropriations in smaller amounts, remaining unexpended, which swell the amount to the figures first stated.

MEDFIELD INSANE ASYLUM.

Chapter 445, Acts 1890, provided for the appointment of three commissioners, “with full power to purchase or bond, subject to the approval of the Governor and Council, suitable real estate in the eastern part of the Commonwealth consisting of not less than three hundred acres of land, suitable for all sanitary purposes as a site for an asylum for the chronic insane, for one thousand patients.” They were authorized to procure plans, specifications, etc. The sum of $30,000 was appropriated, and of this sum $22,679.16, for land, etc., was expended, and the commissioners made their report. By chapter 425, Acts of 1892, authority was given to build an asylum for the chronic insane on the land purchased, for one thousand patients, “substantially in accordance with the plans, specifications and estimates submitted by the commissioners appointed under authority of chapter 445, Acts of 1890." Five hundred thousand dollars was authorized to be paid from the treasury of the Commonwealth to meet the expense of building said asylum, in addition to any compensation and expenses of the trustees. Under this Act the sum of $76,803.19 has been expended.

Acts 1893, chapter 395, authorized a further expenditure of $200,000, making a total of $700,000 authorized up to the present time for building said asylum.

To meet these expenses will require quite a large State tax, possibly fully as much as that of 1893. In view of these facts, I would therefore suggest as to whether, in the present financial condition of the country, it would not be wise for the Legislature to provide a loan for the purpose of paying the expenses of building this asylum, with a provision for a sinking fund, and also provide for reimbursement to the treasury of such amounts as have already been expended.

Chapter 425, section 1, Acts of 1892, provides for compensation for the building committee up to July 1, 1894. If this is to be continued, it will be necessary to have some further legislation upon the matter.

STATE PRINTING.

Considerable doubt having arisen in the minds of State officials as to whose duty it was to supervise the printing done under a contract with the Wright & Potter Printing Company, the following law was passed by the Legislature:

[CHAP. 287.]

AN ACT RELATIVE TO THE SUPERVISION OF STATE PRINTING.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The secretary of the Commonwealth shall, in addition to his other duties, supervise the state printing. The auditor of the Commonwealth shall cause to be measured all the printing done under the state printing contract, and no bills for printing shall be allowed unless they are found to be in strict conformity to said contract. In order to properly carry out the provisions of this act the auditor may employ an expert in printing, and may expend annually for such service a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon its passage. [Approved May 3, 1893.]

In accordance with the authority given by this act, the auditor has employed an expert whose duty it is to measure all the printing done under the contract. This has been faithfully done and no bill is now allowed unless it is found to be in strict conformity to said contract. The arrangement has worked well and so far satisfactorily to all parties concerned, and the interests of the Commonwealth are fully protected.

The large increase in the work in this department seems to warrant the Auditor's asking that the appropriation for extra clerical assistance be increased sufficiently to enable the employment of a type-writer and messenger. The amount allowed by law for extra clerical assistance is now $500. I would recommend that the amount be increased to $2,500 for the purposes above stated.

TEMPORARY LOANS.

Under authority of chapter 3 of the Resolves of 1893, the Treasurer borrowed $1,150,000 to meet expenditures until the receipts from the ordinary revenue could be realized. The sum was borrowed as follows:—

Of the State House Construction Loan Fund,	$450,000 00
Of the Metropolitan Sewerage Loan Fund,	700,000 00
	$1,150,000 00

These amounts were paid from the ordinary revenue during the year. There are no temporary loans to provide for,

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

The aggregate amount of the funded debt at the beginning and end of the year, respectively, and the balance of increase and the cause of such increase are contained in the following statements : —

Amount of debt Jan. 1, 1893,	$29,277,415 55

Decreased by payments as follows : —
Troy and Greenfield Railroad Bonds,	$1,150,000 00
Net increase as above,	$5,534 000 00

This statement shows the aggregate amount of State scrip now outstanding, but the actual debt of the Commonwealth is $11,080,000 less than is named, viz.: $23,731,415.55. The deductions are made on account of the Armory Loan, $1,080,000, which is to be paid from a sinking fund sustained and increased each year by the taxation of the cities in which armories are located; and the Metropolitan Sewerage Loan, $5,000,000, which will be paid by a sinking fund created and endowed by the taxation of the several cities and towns benefited by the sewer. In both cases the Commonwealth, having the credit and the facilities for borrowing at better rates than the towns and cities, provides the money for these enterprises without adding any general burden to those cities and towns not especially benefited; also the Fitchburg Railroad Securities Loan, $5,000,000, principal and interest, will be paid by the Fitchburg Railroad Company bonds, which, with the Fitchburg Railroad Company's stock, constitute the sinking fund established for their redemption.

During the present year the debt will be decreased to the amount of $9,602,148.90. This instalment consists of the following scrip : —

Bounty Fund Loan.

Issued Aug. 1, 1864, due May 1, 1894, $8,402,148 90

Troy and Greenfield Railroad Loan.

Issued July 1, 1864, due July 1, 1894, 300,000 00

Danvers Hospital Loan.

Issued July 1, 1874, due Jan. 1, 1894, .	$650,000 00
July 1, 1874, due July 1, 1894, .	250,000 00
	<hr/>	900,000 00
Total,		<hr/> $9,602,148 90

The instalment will be paid from the sinking funds.

NEW LOANS IN 1893.

Armory Loan.

During the present year, under the authority of chapter 384 of the Acts of the year 1888, scrip has been issued to the amount of $100,000, bearing interest at the rate of three per cent. per annum, due in 1922, for the purpose of building an armory at Lynn. The total amount of scrip issued up to Jan. 1, 1894, for building armories is $1,080,000, and armories have been erected in Boston (two), Lawrence, Lowell, Fitchburg, Worcester and Lynn (which is now approaching completion).

The act provides that the amount required each year to pay the interest and sinking fund requirements for the loan contracted for such armories shall be included in and made part of the sum charged to the city in which such armory is located, and shall be assessed upon it in the apportionment and assessment of its annual State tax ; and the Treasurer and Receiver General shall in each year notify each such city of the assessment, which amount shall be paid by such city into the treasury of the Commonwealth at the time required for the payment of its State tax.

ABOLITION OF GRADE CROSSINGS LOAN.

Under authority of chapter 428, Acts of the year 1890, a loan has been issued by the Treasurer and Receiver-General for the payment of the Commonwealth's proportion of expenses in connection with the abolition of grade crossings under this and subsequent acts. The scrip is dated Nov. 1, 1893, to run for thirty years, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent. per annum. Four hundred thousand dollars of these bonds have been sold at 100 $\frac{3}{4}$, the premium being \$3,000, and in accordance with the recommendation of the Auditor in his report last year the revenue has been reimbursed to the amount of \$87,056.29, as provided for by chapter 424 of the Acts of the year 1893.

The total amount expended by the Commonwealth for grade crossings up to Jan. 1, 1894, is $183,198.26.

(Of this amount there will be refunded to the Commonwealth under chapter 283 of the Acts of 1893 the sum of $5,238.16.

Chapter 433 of the Acts of 1892 provides for the abolition of certain grade crossings of the Boston and Providence Railroad Corporation in the city of Boston, and also for an issue of stock from time to time, by the Old Colony Railroad Corporation, to the amount of $2,000,000 to meet the necessary expenses thereof.

This act provides that the Commonwealth shall repay to said railroad corporation forty-five per cent. of the cost incurred, and the city of Boston shall repay to the Commonwealth thirty per cent. of the amount repaid by the Commonwealth to said railroad corporation, in twenty equal annual payments of one and one-half per cent. of said amount, with interest at the rate of three per cent. per annum.

The Commonwealth has issued scrip for the purpose of paying for the abolition of grade crossings at the rate of three and one-half per cent. per annum. It would seem proper that the city of Boston should repay as provided for in this act, with at least the same rate of interest that the scrip carries. I would therefore recommend that chapter 433 of the Acts of 1892 be amended so that the interest shall be at a rate not exceeding four per cent. per annum.

FITCHBURG RAILROAD SECURITIES LOAN.

During the year 1894 the Bounty Loan Bonds amounting to $8,402,148.90, Troy & Greenfield Railroad Bonds amounting to $300,000 and Danvers Lunatic Hospital Loan Bonds amounting to $900,000, in all $9,602,148.90 become due, and it was necessary that some action should be taken for the proper disposal of the securities in the several sinking funds pledged for the redemption of the bonds, in order to secure the money for the payment thereof.

Among these securities are the bonds of the Fitchburg Railroad Company, issued in 1887, running fifty years and bearing interest at the rate of three per cent. for first five years, three and one-half per cent. the second five years and four per cent. for the remainder of the time. In the present financial condition of the country it did not seem good policy to put these bonds on the market, therefore, the Legislature of 1893 enacted the following law : —

[CHAP. 408.]

AN ACT RELATING TO THE STOCK AND BONDS OF THE FITCHBURG RAILROAD COMPANY HELD BY THE COMMONWEALTH.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows :

SECTION 1. The treasurer and receiver general, as soon as practicable after the passage of this act, shall, under the direction of the governor and council, issue scrip or certificates of debt in the name and behalf of the Commonwealth, and under its seal, to an amount not exceeding five million dollars, for a term not exceeding twenty years. Said scrip or certificates of debt shall be issued as registered bonds or with interest coupons attached, and shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding four per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, in gold coin or its equivalent, on the first days of February and August in each year. Such scrip or certificates of debt shall be designated on their face as the Fitchburg Railroad Securities Loan ; shall be countersigned by the governor, and shall be deemed a pledge of the faith and credit of the Commonwealth, redeemable at the time specified therein, in gold coin or its equivalent, and shall be sold and disposed of by public auction, or in such other mode, and at such times and prices, and in such amounts, and at such rate of interest, not exceeding four per centum per annum, as the governor and council shall deem best.

SECT. 2. The proceeds of the sales of the scrip or certificates of debt mentioned in section one shall be used to purchase at par, from the several funds of which they form a part, the bonds of the Fitchburg Railroad Company, which were received in payment for the Hoosac tunnel and Troy and Greenfield railroad; which bonds so purchased together with the common stock of said Fitchburg Railroad Company, owned by the Commonwealth, shall be set apart as a fund to be known as the Fitchburg Railroad Securities Sinking Fund; and said bonds and stock shall be held as a sinking fund to redeem the scrip or certificates of debt provided for in section one, at maturity.

SECT. 3. The income of said bonds and stock shall be devoted to the payment of the interest on said scrip or certificates of debt, and in case said income is more than sufficient in any year to pay said interest the excess shall be added to the income of the Massachusetts school fund for that year, and in case in any year the income is insufficient to pay said interest, the deficiency shall be payable from any money in the treasury, not otherwise appropriated.

SECT. 4. The sinking fund established by this act shall be in the custody of the treasurer and receiver general of the Commonwealth, as other funds, but the securities shall be under the direction and control of a committee consisting of the governor, the lieutenant governor and the treasurer and receiver general, who shall, in all cases wherein said securities have a voting power at any meeting of said corporation, determine by whom, and what way, such voting power shall be exercised. Said committee shall manage and control the common stock herein referred to for the best interests of the Commonwealth and of the city of Boston, and particularly with a view to prevent the merging or consolidation of said railroad with, or its control by, any parallel or competing line, and to maintain the line of said company permanently as an independent line from Boston to points in New York State.

SECT. 5. The securities held in the sinking fund herein established shall not be sold or exchanged except by authority of the governor and council.

SECT. 6. This act shall take effect upon its passage. [Approved June 3, 1893.]

Under authority of this act the Treasurer and Receiver General has issued scrip in accordance with the terms thereof, to the amount of $5,000,000, bearing interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent. per annum, to run twenty years, which were sold at $103.17 — bringing a premium of $158,850 — and a sinking fund has been established, and from the proceeds of the sale, $1,500,000 of Fitchburg Railroad Bonds purchased from the Troy & Greenfield R.R. Loan Sinking Fund and Boston, Hartford & Erie R.R. Loan Sinking Fund has been put into the Fitchburg Railroad Securities Loan Sinking Fund, with which the remainder of the bonds of the Fitchburg Railroad Company, now in other funds, and the stock of said company owned by the Commonwealth shall constitute a sinking fund for the redemption of said scrip as provided for by said act.

THE METROPOLITAN SEWERAGE LOAN, authorized by chapter 439, Acts of 1889, has been increased during the year by the issue of scrip to the amount of $579,000.00. The total amount of scrip now issued is $5,000,000.00. This loan bears interest at three per centum per annum, and is due in forty years from its date. The whole amount of scrip authorized to be issued was five millions of dollars.

The scrip issued under this law is to be paid by a sinking fund increased each year by assessments upon the several cities and towns benefited by the act.

The balance available for the work was, Jan. 1, 1894, $955,473.08.

It is expected that the work on this system of sewerage will be finished and the sewers in full operation some time during the year 1895. The Metropolitan Sewerage Commissioners in their report recommend an additional issue of scrip to the amount of $500,000.00 to finish and fully equip the system.

METROPOLITAN PARKS LOAN.

By authority of chapter 407 of the Acts of the year 1893, the Treasurer and Receiver General was authorized, with the approval of the Governor and Council, to issue scrip or certificates of indebtedness to an amount not exceeding $1,000,000.00 for a term not exceeding forty years, with interest not exceeding four per cent. per annum, to meet expenses to be incurred under the provision of an "Act to establish a Metropolitan Park Commission," who are given authority to acquire, maintain and make available to the inhabitants of a district which shall extend to and may be exercised in the cities of Boston, Cambridge, Chelsea, Everett, Lynn, Malden, Medford, Newton, Quincy, Somerville, Waltham and Woburn, and in the towns of Arlington, Belmont, Braintree, Brookline, Canton, Dedham, Dover, Hingham, Hull, Hyde Park, Melrose, Milton, Nahant, Needham, Revere, Saugus, Stoneham, Swampscott, Wakefield, Watertown, Wellesley, Weston, Weymouth, Winchester and Winthrop; which cities and towns shall constitute the Metropolitan Parks District for the purpose of creating open spaces for exercise and recreation.

The amount of money required each year from each city and town of the Metropolitan Parks District to meet the interest, sinking fund requirement and expenses aforesaid for each year, and deficiency, if any, shall be estimated by the treasurer of the Commonwealth in accordance with the proportion determined by the commission appointed by the supreme judicial court as provided in section 10, and shall be included in and made a part of the sum charged to such city or town, and be assessed upon it in the apportionment and assessment of its annual State tax; and said Treasurer shall in each year notify each city and town of the amount of such assessment, and the same shall be paid by the city or town into the treasury of the Commonwealth at the time required for the payment and as a part of its State tax.

No scrip has been issued, although the Commission have been at work and have expended during the present year for salaries, office rent and other expenses the sum of $9,595.41. They have also taken under authority of the act considerable land, and this loan will probably be issued early in the year 1894.

STATE HOUSE LOAN, 1901.

This loan has been increased the present year by the issue of scrip to the amount of $605,000. This was necessary to carry out the provision of chapters 404 and 438 of the Acts

BOUNTY LOAN SINKING FUND.

The Bounty Loan Sinking Fund, for the redemption of the Bounty Loan Scrip which matures May 1, 1894, was established under authority of chapter 313 of the Acts of 1864, and the law provided for the payment into said sinking fund—first, all dividends which may be received upon the 7,716 shares which were then held by the Commonwealth in the Western Railroad; second, all receipts from the sales of Back Bay lands, less expenses of commissioners and of filling, including the portion that was then by law payable into the Massachusetts School Fund, also all net receipts from sales of other public lands, not already appropriated for specific purposes; third, in case the receipts in any fiscal year did not amount to a sum equal to 3 per cent. of the total amount of scrip issued, there should be raised by taxation a sum equal to the difference.

This scrip was issued to pay bounties to Massachusetts volunteers. The loan will be paid in full May 1, 1894.

By authority of various laws passed in 1862 and 1863, money due soldiers for bounties was deposited in the treasury of the Commonwealth, subject to the order of the soldier entitled to the same. In 1882, under authority of chapter 112 of the Acts of the year 1882, the sum of $46,336.80, standing on the books of the treasurer to the credit of Massachusetts volunteers, returned allotments and allotment rolls, was transferred to the Bounty Loan Sinking Fund, with the provision that any person entitled to receive any sum from the treasurer from these credits, under existing laws, may file his claim with the Auditor, who shall examine the same, and, if satisfied as to the validity of the claim, shall certify the same to the Governor and Council. Warrant therefor and payment thereof shall thereupon be made as in case of other lawful payments from the treasury of the Commonwealth. One claim of this kind has been paid during the present year. I would suggest to the General Court some legislation providing for the payment in the future of such claims as may arise of this nature, either by transfer of so much of the above amount as remains in the Bounty Loan Sinking Fund to some other sinking fund, or by annual appropriations therefor, or by the establishment of a fund to be known as the "Massachusetts Volunteers Fund," subject to the same provisions as expressed in chapter 112 of 1882, referred to.

BOSTON, HARTFORD & ERIE RAILROAD LOAN SINKING AND OTHER FUNDS.

It will be noticed that the Boston, Hartford & Erie Railroad Loan Sinking Fund, maturing in 1900, the Bounty Loan Sinking Fund, maturing in 1894, and the Troy & Greenfield Railroad Loan Sinking Fund, maturing in 1897, are now more than sufficient to pay their respective loans.

The surplus of these funds is as follows :—

Boston, Hartford & Erie Railroad Sinking Fund, . . .	$45,916 18
Bounty Loan Sinking Fund,	189,610 59
Troy & Greenfield Railroad Loan Sinking Fund, . . .	525,146 52
	$760,673 29

— which, together with the future incomes, may therefore be carried to other sinking funds, as provided for by chapter 259 of the Acts of 1891, that need additional endowment to pay their bonds at maturity. Under this act quite a large amount has already been transferred to the Prison and Hospital Loan Sinking Fund, whose bonds mature in 1897. That loan now amounts to $3,899,355.50 (which includes scrip issued for building the Massachusetts Reformatory, Reformatory Prison for Women, Danvers Lunatic Hospital and Worcester Lunatic Hospital), while the sinking fund for the redemption of the same amounts to $3,109,960.43. Any deficit can easily be provided for out of the above surplus.

The State House Loan, due in 1901, and the State House Construction Loan, due in 1909, are to be provided for by sinking funds, for which funds a certain amount is raised annually by taxation and paid into said sinking funds, as provided for by chapter 394 of the Acts of 1889 and chapter 224 of the Acts of 1891.

The Armory Loan and Metropolitan Sewerage Loan are provided with sinking funds, which are maintained by yearly assessments upon the cities and towns benefited thereby.

The Fitchburg Railroad Securities Loan Sinking Fund will take care of itself, being made up of the Fitchburg Railroad Company's bonds and stock.

Abolition of Grade Crossings Loan Sinking Fund. No provision has been made for maintaining this sinking fund, other than the payment into the same of the premium received from the sale of the bonds. Chapter 424 of the Acts of the year 1893 provides that “the amount necessary to meet the annual sinking fund requirements and to pay the interest on said bonds shall be raised by taxation from year to year.” The amount necessary, as herein provided, will appear in the Auditor’s estimates of the present year.

OTHER RESOURCES.

Among the other resources pledged for the payment of the public debt are : —

Stock of the Fitchburg Railroad Company, par value,	$5,000,000 00
Land in Boston Harbor (So. Boston Flats, estimated),	2,000,000 00
Total,	$7,000,000 00

These two amounts appear as a part of the resources in Statements 10 and 11.

A list of the property belonging to the Commonwealth which is used for its various departments, — Boards, Commissions, Prisons, Hospitals, Schools, etc., etc., and yields no income, — will be found at the end of this report.

TRUST FUNDS.

The statute prescribing the manner and form of the Auditor’s report requires a statement of the funds held in trust by the Commonwealth. These funds amount in the aggregate to $8,298,604.14, and are given in detail in Statement IX.

The funds are as follows : —

INDICTMENTS FOR MURDER.

WILLIAM COY, convicted March 26, 1892, of the murder of John Whalen, Aug. 30, 1891 (Messrs. H. C. Joyner and C. J. Parkhurst, counsel), at the time of the last report was awaiting execution, of which a respite was granted from Jan. 27 to Feb. 23, 1893. Feb. 18, 1893, a motion for a new trial was heard and overruled, and exceptions were taken. Feb. 21, 1893, a petition for a writ of error was filed in the Supreme Judicial court, and was heard on the same day by the full court, at Boston, and denied; Feb. 23, 1893, a further respite of one week was granted. Feb. 27, at a hearing before the Superior court on allowance of the exceptions to the ruling on the motion for new trial, the exceptions were disallowed, and sentence of death was executed March 3, 1893.

WALLACE W. HOLMES of Chicopee, convicted June 30, 1892, of the murder of his wife Nellie F. Holmes, Sept. 1, 1891 (Messrs. A. L. Green and M. F. Druce, counsel, with whom on the motion for new trial was Henry C. Bliss, Esq.), was at the date of the last report awaiting execution of the sentence of death. On Jan. 19, 1893, application to the governor and council for commutation of sentence was made and refused. A motion for a new trial was heard at Springfield, Jan. 31, 1893, and denied. Sentence was executed Feb. 3, 1893.

AUGUST LANGNER of Dedham, indicted Sept. 12, 1891, for the murder of Mary Emerson, at Dedham, June 2, 1891; apprehended in October, 1892; arraigned Oct. 28, 1892 (Messrs. Henry E. Fales and C. C. Mellen assigned as counsel), was tried at Dedham Dec. 4-7, 1893, before Blodgett, Sherman and Fessenden, JJ. The trial was conducted for the Commonwealth by District Attorney Robert O. Harris. The prisoner was convicted of murder in the second degree, and was thereupon sentenced and committed to the State Prison for life.

CHARLES ABRAHAM of Clarksburg, indicted in Berkshire, July 11, 1892, for the murder of Augustine Abraham, otherwise called Augustina Abraham, otherwise called Christina Abraham, at Clarksburg, June 17, 1892, and ISAAC BENOIT, otherwise called Isaac Joseph Benoit, otherwise called Joseph Benoit, of Clarksburg, separately indicted at the same time as accessory before the fact to the same homicide, arraigned July 22, 1892 (Messrs. M. E. Couch and C. J. Parkhurst assigned as counsel), were severally released on their own recognizance July 10, 1893, the evidence at that time being deemed insufficient to convict. The indictments remain on file. In charge of District Attorney Charles L. Gardner.

ELLEN M. GLOSTER of Weymouth, indicted in Norfolk, Sept. 9, 1892, for the murder of her infant child at Weymouth, March 5, 1892, arraigned Dec. 28, 1892 (Messrs. Edward Avery and Albert P. Worthen assigned as counsel), was tried at Dedham April 10–14, 1893, before Mason, C.J., and Dunbar and Corcoran, JJ.; the trial was conducted for the Commonwealth by District Attorneys Harris, and William H. Moody, of the Essex district. The result was an acquittal.

RICHARD POWELL of Somerville, indicted in Middlesex, Oct. 17, 1892, for the murder of George W. Brawn, at Somerville, Dec. 22, 1889, arraigned Nov. 1, 1892 (John B. Goodrich, Esq., assigned as counsel), withdrew his plea of not guilty June 28, 1893, and offered a plea of guilty of murder in the second degree, which was accepted, and he was sentenced and committed to the State Prison for life. District Attorney Fred N. Wier assisted in this case.

EDWARD BEAUREGARD, otherwise called Edward Begor, otherwise called Ed. Begor, of Orange, indicted in Franklin, Nov. 15, 1892, for the murder of Abigail Rogers, at Wendell, Sept. 4, 1892, arraigned Nov. 22, 1892 (Messrs. J. A. Titus and E. Bicknell assigned as counsel), withdrew his plea of not guilty April 20, 1893, and offered a plea of guilty of murder in the second degree, which was accepted, and he was sentenced and committed to the State Prison for life. In charge of District Attorney John A. Aiken.

LIZZIE ANDREW BORDEN, indicted in Bristol, Dec. 2, 1892, for the murder of Andrew Jackson Borden and Abby Durfee Borden, at Fall River, Aug. 4, 1892, was arraigned May 8, 1893, and pleaded not guilty. No formal assignment of counsel was requested or made. Messrs. George D. Robinson, Melvin O. Adams and Andrew J. Jennings were retained as counsel and conducted the defence. Trial at New Bedford, June 5–20, 1893, before Mason, C.J., and Blodgett and Dewey, JJ. The trial was conducted for the Commonwealth by District Attorneys Hosea M. Knowlton and William H. Moody. The result was an acquittal.

This case attracted the public attention to a degree unprecedented for many years, and was the subject of extended and heated discussion and comment, much of which was in the last degree ill-informed, intemperate and calculated to prejudice both the Commonwealth and the accused. There are indications that the public discussion of the matter, and the resulting popular excitement, affected the conduct as well as the result of the trial. The history of the case furnishes abundant evidence that reckless and indiscriminating comment publicly made on the merits of a pending judicial proceeding, of which the whole truth is rarely if ever known to the public, affects the integrity of the judicial system and is inconsistent with the proper administration of the laws. It will serve to awaken the attention of the courts, in whose hands is the only practicable remedy, to the necessity of protecting themselves so far as possible against exterior influences calculated to pervert the course of justice, which are as likely to be invoked in behalf of the guilty as of the innocent, and which, if they protect a victim of mistaken accusation to-day, may destroy another to-morrow.

The experience of this case has led to the suggestion that it may become expedient to provide for a right of exception by the Commonwealth in criminal cases. It has been doubted whether this can be done consistently with the rule that a person shall not be twice put in jeopardy for the same offence. But there is no such prohibition in our Constitution, and the provision of the Constitution of the United States to this effect does not apply to the States. I am not yet convinced, however, of the necessity of so important and radical a change in our criminal procedure, especially as I doubt if it would prove to be of practical value; though there is some reason to believe that the criminal law may be warped out of the right line by the marked and perhaps natural inclination to rule doubtful points in a capital trial, however important, in favor of the accused.

JAMES ALBERT TREFETHEN, indicted with William H. Smith in Middlesex, Feb. 12, 1892, for the murder of Deltona J. Davis, at Medford, Dec. 23, 1891 (Messrs. John D. Long and Marcellus Coggan assigned as counsel), convicted of murder in the first degree May 4, 1892, which conviction was set aside on exceptions Sept. 6, 1892, was again tried at Cambridge, Sept. 18-29, 1893, before Sherman, Dunbar and Braley, JJ. The Commonwealth had at the trial the valuable assistance of ex-District Attorney P. H. Cooney, in whose term of office the indictment was found and first tried, and William Schofield, Esq., participated in the defence, with Messrs. Long and Coggan, the counsel assigned. The result was an acquittal.

The vicissitudes of this case are worth noting, especially as it marks a turning-point in our criminal procedure. From the adoption of the Constitution until chapter 196 of the Acts of 1859, the law required all capital cases to be tried before a quorum of the full bench of the Supreme Judicial court. This statute transferred them to the Superior court; but at the extra session of the legislature held in the latter part of that year, and before any cases were tried in the Superior court, they were remanded by chapter 282 of that year to the Supreme Judicial court, to be tried as theretofore by a quorum of all the judges, with a right of exception on questions of law. This continued until by chapter 232 of 1872 the required number of judges was reduced to two; and this continued until by chapter 379 of 1891 they were again transferred to the Superior court. The reports show that during this period twenty capital cases tried in the Supreme Judicial court were by exceptions or otherwise before the full bench of that court on questions of law, and in every case the conviction was affirmed. Trefethen's case was the first capital conviction in the Superior court which came before the Supreme Judicial court for review, and, so far as the reports disclose, is the first capital conviction ever set aside in the Commonwealth. The ground of decision was the exclusion by the Superior court, at the trial, of the evidence of Sarah L. Hubert, a trance medium, offered by the defence, to the effect that on the day before the alleged murder a young woman, whom the witness said she recognized by a photograph as Deltena Davis, came to her place of business in Boston, said she was pregnant, etc., and in the course of the conversation said she was going to drown herself. In the state of the law as it was at the time of the trial, this statement was inadmissible as hearsay. The Superior court, in excluding it, followed the case of Commonwealth v. Felch, 132 Mass. 22, which is overruled by the present decision. At the second trial the evidence of Hubert was put in, but was so met by the government that it was practically abandoned by the defence and could not have been believed by the jury; and while some other new evidence was offered, it was hardly of a character to materially influence the verdict. The result is that Trefethen was convicted by the first jury of murder in the first degree, the conviction was set aside for a ruling which was in accordance with the declared state of the law at the time of the trial, and at the second trial he was acquitted, upon substantially the same evidence.

Indictments for murder found since the date of the last annual report have been disposed of as follows : —

AMOS L. MORSE of Boston, indicted in Suffolk, July 8, 1893, for the murder of William T. S. Wardwell, at Boston, June 24, 1893. The prisoner having been proved to be insane, he was ordered to be committed to the State Lunatic Hospital at Taunton, there to be kept to await the further order of the court. In charge of District Attorney Oliver Stevens.

JOSE CARREA DE MELLO of Fall River was indicted in Bristol, July 24, 1893, for the murder of Bertha M. Manchester, at Fall River, May 30, 1893. He was arraigned Sept. 18, 1893, and pleaded not guilty. On Jan. 8, 1894, he retracted his former plea, and pleaded guilty of murder in the second degree, and was sentenced and committed to the State Prison for life. Marcus G. B. Swift, Esq., appeared as counsel for the defendant. In charge of District Attorney Knowlton.

SANDY W. BRYANT of Boston was indicted in Suffolk, Dec. 9, 1893, for the murder of James A. Sullivan, at Boston, Nov. 25, 1893. He was arraigned Dec. 19, 1893, and pleaded not guilty, and on Dec. 26, 1893, he retracted his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty of manslaughter, and was sentenced and committed to the State Prison for five years. In charge of District Attorney Stevens.

The following indictments for murder are pending : —

THOMAS A. BROWN of Boston, indicted in Suffolk, May 6, 1893, for the murder of Catherine Brown, otherwise called Catherine O'Mealley, at Boston, April 4, 1893, was arraigned

May 22, 1893, and pleaded not guilty, and Messrs. Horace G. Allen and Michael J. Creed were assigned as counsel. Afterward, on June 23, 1893, a second indictment was found, on which he has not yet been arraigned. In charge of District Attorney Stevens.

RICHARD HALEY of West Stockbridge was indicted in Berkshire, July 12, 1893, for the murder of Thomas O'Brien, at West Stockbridge, March 19, 1893. Charles E. Hibbard, Esq., appears as counsel for the defendant. In charge of District Attorney Gardner.

EDWARD CUNNINGHAM of Holden was indicted in Worcester, Aug. 17, 1893, for the murder of William Baxter, at Holden, July 6, 1893. He was arraigned Nov. 4, 1893, and pleaded not guilty, and on Dec. 11, 1893, he retracted his former plea, and pleaded guilty of manslaughter, and is now held awaiting sentence. Messrs. John R. Thayer and Arthur P. Rugg appeared as counsel for the defendant. In charge of District Attorney Francis A. Gaskill.

JOSE VIEIRA SARMENTO of New Bedford was indicted in Bristol, Nov. 11, 1893, for the murder of Maria das Candeias, otherwise called Maria das Candeias de Mello, at New Bedford, June 9, 1893. He was arraigned Nov. 22, 1893, and pleaded not guilty, and J. L. Gillingham, Esq., was assigned as counsel. In charge of District Attorney Knowlton.

DANIEL M. ROBERTSON of New Bedford was indicted in Bristol, Nov. 11, 1893, for the murder of Mary Robertson, at New Bedford, Sept. 9, 1893. He was arraigned Nov. 22, 1893, and pleaded not guilty. Timothy W. Coakley, Esq., appeared as counsel. In charge of District Attorney Knowlton.

JOHN MACKIE was indicted in Suffolk, Jan. 6, 1894, for the murder of Mercy L. Randall, at Boston, Nov. 21, 1893.

The changes in procedure which the Legislature has made at my suggestion, putting the criminal appeals in charge of the district attorneys, and giving the attorney-general a discretion as to participating in capital trials, are working well, and are likely to be still further approved by experience. So far as I am informed this is the view of the district attorneys now in office, and of others best qualified to judge. The number of criminal appeals is already diminishing. I have been unavoidably prevented during the past year from participating in two capital trials in which I should otherwise have deemed it my duty to engage, but they were ably and satisfactorily conducted for the Commonwealth by the district attorneys. There is no reason to doubt that under the new system that officer will always have the assistance of the attorney-general when he needs or desires it and circumstances permit.

INFANTICIDE.

One of the capital cases tried during the year illustrates anew the difficulty of securing the conviction of a woman charged with the murder of her infant child. Under the existing law the grand jury and the prosecuting officer, though having the power to indict for manslaughter, are logically and morally bound to indict and try such cases, if appearing to be malicious, as for murder, which leads upon conviction to the penalty of death or imprisonment for life. This is liable to result in a failure of justice which might be avoided if the penalty were less severe. Some of these cases are of great hardship and appeal strongly to the sympathies of the jury, as, for example, when the mother has been seduced and abandoned by the father of the child; and in many of them, even in the absence of extenuating circumstances, the evidence is not of such a character as to procure a conviction of murder, though there may be no substantial doubt of the guilt of the accused. There is also high medical authority for the belief that some of these homicides are due to the mental disturbance which sometimes accompanies childbirth, rendering the mother more or less irresponsible for her conduct. For these and other reasons, both of justice and humanity, I suggest the expediency of providing that such homicide, even if appearing to be done with legal malice, may in the discretion of the grand jury and the prosecuting officer be indicted as manslaughter instead of murder.

STATISTICS OF MURDER IN MASSACHUSETTS.

The subjoined table is from an article on "Murder in Massachusetts," in the quarterly publication of the American Statistical Association for September, 1893, in which the conclusion is reached by the writer, Mr. Waldo L. Cook, that the number of homicides in Massachusetts is decreasing, as appears by this comparison of the number of indictments for the period of 1871-1881 with those of the period of 1882-1892; and that the cities and more thickly populated parts of the Commonwealth compare favorably in this respect with the rural districts, the record of the western counties being least favorable.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

The attention of the legislature has heretofore been called to the expediency of dispensing with the sessions of the full court in certain counties in which it is now required to attend. It is believed that the general convenience may be promoted by providing for sessions of the full court at Worcester and Springfield twice in each year, and that all cases from the eastern counties may be conveniently heard at the sessions in Boston.

SUPERIOR COURT.

Notwithstanding recent additions to the number of justices of the Superior court, there is not adequate provision for the constantly increasing volume of its business. The repeated transfers of work from the Supreme Judicial court and the normal increase from the growth of the Commonwealth have required much extension of the time allotted to sittings in all the larger counties. Further transfers which may become necessary or expedient to give the Supreme Judicial court opportunity for its appellate work may make the demand upon the Superior court still heavier. There are serious objections to further additions to the number of justices, and the weight of opinion with the court and with the best informed members of the bar is believed to be that the number is now as large as efficiency in a court of general jurisdiction will permit, unless it can be organized in divisions with reference to the several classes of its work; and this may be considered undesirable or impracticable. Various methods of effecting the object in view have been considered, among them the establishment in Suffolk County of a separate court for the criminal jury business, with such civil jurisdiction also as may be deemed expedient. It is believed that the desired relief may be best secured by providing for final disposition of minor causes in local courts.

Uniformity in the organization and jurisdiction of local courts is important in securing unity in administration of the law throughout the Commonwealth, and great gain in this respect has been made; but there are practical difficulties in putting juries into the smaller district courts, as the experiment has proved. It is believed that there are no insuperable obstacles to securing jury trials with both economy and efficiency in local courts at the larger centres. Such courts in their jury work may be given county jurisdiction, or in counties having more than one shire town the court at each shire may be given jurisdiction of a district having convenient access thereto. The plan here suggested may well be introduced tentatively, if at all, beginning at the largest centre where conditions are most favorable to its success and extending it gradually if found to work satisfactorily.

It may reasonably be required also that criminal defendants claim jury trial, if desired, before trial in the court of original jurisdiction. There is no sufficient reason why a person charged with crime should be entitled to two trials. While to require such election would materially reduce the number of trials, it is probable that its immediate effect would be to increase the number of trials by jury, and unless and until such trials can be had in local courts the change may not be desirable or practicable.

Another measure which would operate at once to materially relieve both the Superior and Supreme Judicial courts, and, what is of greater moment, promote the efficiency of criminal justice without endangering the rights of persons accused, would be the withdrawal of the right of exception or appeal in matter of law in all trials for misdemeanor; leaving the right of the presiding justice to report a question, as now provided by law, when in his opinion it is so doubtful or important as to require its determination by the Supreme Judicial court. A large proportion of the exceptions taken in such cases are of no practical importance in the determination of the case. Many of them have been repeatedly adjudicated, and not a few are taken solely for delay.

In this connection I recommend that the requirement of Statute of 1891, chapter 379, section 2, be so modified that capital indictments may be tried before one judge or more, leaving it to the court to provide for the attendance of more than one judge if necessary. In most of the States capital cases are tried, like other criminal cases, before a single judge.

There is ordinarily no sufficient reason why several judges should be taken from their work to sit in a trial for murder unless it is likely to be of unusual importance or difficulty. This will materially relieve the Superior court, the sessions of which have sometimes to be interrupted to furnish a complement of judges for capital trials. My own belief, confirmed by observation and experience in this office, is that the procedure in capital cases should be put as nearly as may be upon the same footing as in other crimes; and that the exaltation of murder which has heretofore characterized our system renders it more difficult to convict the guilty and is in no wise essential to the protection of the rights of the accused in any case.

THE INTERCHANGEABLE MILEAGE TICKET CASES.

In the cases against the Boston & Albany and Old Colony Railroad companies, being two of the informations brought against the principal railroad corporations of the state to enforce chapter 389 of the Acts of 1892 as reported by me last year, which were taken to the full court with an agreement as to the others that they should abide the result, the statute was held unconstitutional, by a majority of the court. Several of the grounds of defence relied on were disposed of adversely to the defendants, and the decision seems to leave the way open to a new enactment which may perhaps be so framed as to avoid the present objections. It was held that the statute is not in violation of the commerce clause of the Constitution of the United States; that it is immaterial that some roads in the Commonwealth may not be financially responsible for the redemption of the tickets; that it is within the power of the legislature to fix railroad rates, the question of the reasonableness of the rates fixed not arising here; that it is immaterial that some roads may be exempted or excluded from the operation of the act; and that it involves no unconstitutional delegation of power to the Railroad Commissioners. It was also intimated, though not decided, that the Old Colony Company has no longer the benefit of certain special provisions of its charters as to rates of fare; and assumed, though not decided, that it is not always necessary for a passenger to pay his fare in advance, and held that if not, the statute is not in violation of the legal tender clause of the Constitution of the United States. In the opinion delivered by the Chief Justice, apparently in behalf of himself and two associates, the statute is held unconstitutional on the grounds that it authorizes a railroad to impose conditions on the carriage of passengers by other roads, and that it provides no adequate security for payment for the service. At the end of this opinion it is stated that two other justices, “without expressing an opinion upon the other matters discussed in this opinion,” agree that the statute is void as in effect a taking of private property for a public use without due provision for compensation. The other two justices dissent, holding the statute constitutional.

This decision is noticeable, as indicating a tendency to depart from the fundamental rule that a statute shall not be held unconstitutional if there is any ground on which, in any view, it can be sustained, and also on account of the position of the court in making it. Three justices hold the statute unconstitutional on two specific grounds; two other justices hold it unconstitutional on another ground; and two justices hold it constitutional. Thus the statute is set aside for reasons no one of which commands the open assent even of a majority of the court. It may therefore properly be inferred that the majority is against each of the reasons assigned. If the same process is carried a little farther, the validity of the most deliberate and important acts of the legislature may turn upon the opinion of a single judge in which no other judge concurs, and they may be declared void by force of a reason existing in the mind of a single judge which all the other judges agree is no reason. It is not too much to say that such an exercise of the high power to overrule the acts of the legislative branch of the government, within its proper limits a most valuable safeguard of the rights secured by the Constitution, would endanger its existence.

In this connection it is to be remarked that the number of decisions in this Commonwealth against the constitutionality of statutes is much greater in recent years than it formerly was. From a careful examination of the reported cases it appears that from the adoption of the Constitution to the present time, the constitutionality of two hundred and forty-seven statutes has been considered by the full court, of which forty-one have been set aside. Down to 1860, out of sixty-two statutes drawn in question, ten were held unconstitutional; from 1860 to 1870, out of forty questioned, four were held unconstitutional; from 1870 to 1880, out of sixty-three questioned, thirteen were held unconstitutional; from 1880 to 1890, out of thirty-five questioned, eight were held unconstitutional, and from 1890 to the present time, out of twenty questioned, six were held unconstitutional. The proportion of statutes set aside to the whole number drawn in question was, prior to 1860, less than one in six; from 1860 to 1870, one in ten; from 1870 to 1880, a little more than one in five; from 1880 to 1890, a little less than one in four; and since 1890, a little less than one in three. Within the last four years more statutes have been declared unconstitutional than in the first seventy years under the Constitution.

While this statement does not conclusively prove anything, a tendency so unmistakable can hardly be accounted for on any theory of chances. It indicates an increasing liability of the legislature to exceed its constitutional power, or a growing disposition of the court to restrain its exercise. The legislature cannot be unmindful of its own responsibility to guard against unconstitutional enactments; a responsibility which cannot be devolved upon the judiciary and ought not to be shared with it. On the other hand, an eminent judge long ago said, foreseeing the absolute importance of preserving the right equipoise of power between the different departments of the government, "The interference of the judiciary with legislative acts, if frequent or on dubious grounds, might occasion so great a jealousy of this power and so general a prejudice against it as to lead to measures ending in the total overthrow of the independence of the judges, and so of the best preservative of the Constitution. The validity of a law ought not, then, to be questioned unless it is so obviously repugnant to the Constitution that when pointed out by the judges, all men of sense and reflection in the community may perceive the repugnancy. By such a cautious exercise of this judicial check, no jealousy of it will be excited, the public confidence in it will be promoted, and its salutary effects be justly and fully appreciated."

THE LOBBY LAW.

All the returns required by section 6 of this law, chapter 456 of the Acts of 1890, were filed in proper form and in most cases seasonably. The few returns which were late appeared, with one exception, to have been delayed by some accident or mistake and not wilfully. In the excepted case, the corporation in question disputed its obligation to make a return, on the ground that the payments to be returned were for services and expenses incurred upon an order of investigation into the conduct of certain railroads, and that this was not "legislation." Being of opinion that an order of investigation can be construed to be legislation, in the sense and for the purposes of the statute, and that in order to make the law effective it should be so construed, at least until the courts determine the contrary, I notified the corporation that a prosecution would be commenced, whereupon the return was immediately filed.

ABOLITION OF GRADE CROSSINGS.

The number of applications under the Statute of 1890 for abolition of grade crossings of railroads has decreased during the year, perhaps in consequence of the present financial stringency. The number of new cases has been but nine, as compared with thirty in 1890, sixteen in 1891 and twenty in 1892. The amount drawn from the treasury on this account during the past year, out of the limited annual appropriation of $500,000, was $96,141.97, as compared with $87,056.29 in 1892, prior to which time no payments from the treasury were called for.

THE OLEOMARGARINE CASES.

Upon application to the Supreme Court of the United States, the cases of Huntley and Plumley, in error, vs. The Commonwealth (156 Mass. 236) have been advanced for argument on the first Monday of March next. They are likely then to be argued, and a decision of the important questions which they involve, especially of the power of the State to forbid the sale by the importer in the original package of oleomargarine brought from other States, may in the ordinary course be looked for within two or three months from that time.

OPINIONS.

Appended are copies of such of the opinions given during the year as may be of use for future reference.

The practice of publishing the opinions, which I adopted for the convenience of this department and the state officers, has led to an increased demand for copies of the annual report, which the edition now provided by the statute is inadequate to supply. I respectfully suggest the expediency of increasing the number from twelve hundred and fifty, as now established, to fifteen hundred.

In taking leave of this office it gives me pleasure to acknowledge the attention which the legislature has paid to my recommendations, and to express my continued belief that the changes thus effected, in the duties of this office and in the general laws, are in the public interest and will be further approved by experience.

Messrs. GEORGE C. TRAVIS and CHARLES N. HARRIS have continued in office as first and second assistant attorney-general, respectively.

OPINIONS.

[It is not the duty of the treasurer, under the Legacy Tax Act, to determine whether, in the case of a bequest in trust for a sister-in-law of the testator during life, with remainder upon her death to nieces of the testator, it is proper for the executors to have the life estate appraised and the amount of the tax thereon paid by the sister-in-law, and this amount deducted from the whole tax, the balance to be paid on the remainder, but this question must be settled by the court in accordance with the statute.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, Feb. 13, 1893.

Hon. GEORGE A. MARDEN, Treasurer.

SIR : — In reply to your inquiry under the Legacy Tax Act, chapter 425 of the Acts of 1891, whether, in the case of a bequest in trust for a sister-in-law of the testator during life, with remainder upon her death to nieces of the testator, it is proper for the executors to have the life estate appraised and the amount of the tax thereon paid by the sister-in-law and this amount deducted from the whole tax, the balance to be paid on the remainder, I have to say that in my opinion your duty does not require you to determine nor to concern yourself with this question. The executors and trustees must settle it with the court, in accordance with the statute, and I see no reason why it should be your duty, or how you have any authority, to give them any directions upon it. Even in the case provided for by section 2 of the statute, of a bequest to a direct heir for life or years with remainder to a collateral heir, it is, in the first instance, at least, the duty of the executor or trustee, and not the duty of the treasurer of the Commonwealth, to see that the life estate is properly appraised and the tax paid. Inasmuch as in the present case the whole legacy is taxable, and as you have under section 1 a remedy against the executors or trustees for the whole tax, and as the statute makes it the duty of the executors or trustees in all cases to have the proper appraisal made and to deduct and pay over the tax before settlement of their final account, I see no reason why questions of the time or method of appraisal, division or payment, should be cast upon you to determine. They must ultimately be determined by the court in any case, and the executors or trustees can go to the court at any proper time for determination of such questions, if they are unable to determine them without assistance.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[The offer of a newspaper to pay a certain amount to a certain class of advertisers in case of death or disabling accident is, in effect, a contract of insurance, and unlawful.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, April 26, 1893.

HON. GEORGE S. MERRILL, Insurance Commissioner.

SIR :— Upon your inquiry concerning the legality of an offer of a newspaper to pay a certain amount to a certain class of advertisers in case of death or disabling accident, I see no reason to doubt that the case is covered by my opinion given you under date of December 2, 1891, in a similar case, that the transaction is in effect a contract of insurance and is unlawful.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[It is not the duty of the surveyor-general of lumber or his deputies to determine the question of the liability of a person not a sworn officer, who measures and marks lumber, and gives an account of the same for settlement under section 19 of chapter 63 of the Public Statutes.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, May 3, 1893.

His Excellency WILLIAM E. RUSSELL.

SIR :— There appears under the statute to be no duty of the surveyor-general of lumber, or his deputies, which requires them to determine such a question as that submitted to you by him under section 19 of chapter 63 of the Public Statutes ; and while it is probable that a person acting as described in his letter would render himself liable to the penalty, the proper way to raise and determine the question is to apply to the district attorney of the district in which any such supposed offence is committed, to prosecute it under the statute.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[Legislature. Attempted exercise of judicial power. Legislature, in properly terminating the business of certain corporations by repeal of the legislative authority under which it is transacted, cannot determine in advance the rights of all parties in the property of the corporations and require it to be so distributed among them. This is a judicial duty. Doubted whether the legislature can provide that any person who may be appointed by an executive officer to examine books and accounts of corporations shall have power to summon and examine under oath any officer or agent of such corporation and any other person.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, May 9, 1893.

To His Excellency the Governor.

In compliance with your request for my opinion of the constitutionality of the bill entitled "An Act to terminate the endowment business of fraternal beneficiary corporations," I have examined the bill, and notwithstanding the presumptions in favor of legislative acts, I am unable to avoid the conclusion that some of its provisions are in conflict with the Constitution.

There is no doubt of the power of the Legislature to put an end to the endowment business of these corporations, by withdrawing the legislative authority under which it is done. If the bill, after doing this, had provided for the winding up of the business by the courts in accordance with the rights of the various parties in interest under the law, it would be free of any constitutional objection. The stoppage of the business will leave the corporations with certain funds in their possession, some of them applicable to general, and others, it may be, only to special uses, and with a variety of contracts of different classes upon their hands, which presumably they will be unable to fulfil. The rights of all the parties when the business stops are fixed by law. The inquiry into and determination of these various and perhaps conflicting rights and the distribution of the assets among the various claimants, is essentially and necessarily a judicial duty, which must be left to the courts, proceeding according to the rules of law. But the bill, in sections 3 and 4, provides for the appointment of a receiver to take possession of all the moneys and properties of the corporation, of which one common fund is to be made, without regard to particular rights in special funds, or to particular uses to which alone they may be held, and from this common fund to pay, first, the expenses of winding up the business; second, the debts of the corporation contracted in the endowment business, in full, and third, to distribute the balance among the certificate holders or their beneficiaries in proportion to the amount of their claims at the passage of the act, on the basis of the amount paid by each in assessments.

The bill thus undertakes to determine in advance what the rights of each class of claimants shall be, and what disposition shall be made of the assets among them. This, in my opinion, is in effect an exercise of judicial rather than legislative powers, and is not within the province of the legislature. It is possible, though not likely, that the bill may deal with the rights of the various claimants and dispose of the assets among them exactly as the court would do upon proper judicial proceedings. But this does not avoid the difficulty. The legislature has no more power to do a judicial act correctly than to do it incorrectly. And unless the bill in fact deals with all the claimants and disposes of all the assets exactly as they would be dealt with and disposed of in court in accordance with law, or, in other words, if under the operation of the bill any money would go to one claimant which the courts, dealing with the subject in accordance with the established rules, might determine to belong to another, it is plain that such operation, which must to some extent be anticipated, would amount to undue interference with vested rights, if not also to the impairment of the obligation of contracts and deprivation of property without due process of law.

There are other minor difficulties, especially in section 2. If the legislature can confer the extraordinary powers therein specified, to examine books and papers and summon and examine witnesses under oath, etc., upon a sworn and responsible executive officer, I doubt whether they can be conferred in advance upon any person to be appointed by him for the purpose, as the bill provides, without any official sanction or responsibility.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[Obstruction of street by electric wire. General rule that attorney-general will not interfere if there is a remedy in hands of local authorities, or if the violation of the public right is not serious, or if his interference is sought chiefly for protection of private interests.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, June 8, 1893.

To the Honorable the Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners.

I have your communication relating to the complaint of the selectmen of Braintree to your Board, that certain persons have erected electric lighting wires in the streets of Braintree without authority.

If these wires constitute an obstruction of the streets in the sense of the law, or if they materially affect or impair the public safety and convenience in travel, I know of no reason to doubt that it is within the powers of the local surveyors of highways to remove them ; and there are expressions in some of the later decisions of the court indicating that electric lighting wires may be so regarded. It is a general rule of law, applicable to these cases, that the court will not interfere if there is an adequate remedy in the hands of the local authorities ; and as a rule, therefore, it is held inexpedient by the occupants of this office to proceed in such a case. And if this were not so, I doubt if any attorney-general would regard the unlawful erection of an electric lighting wire in any part of the State as a sufficient violation of the public right to call for his interference by proceedings in court. So far as it is desired to remove these wires for the purpose of preventing or avoiding competition with an existing electric lighting company, it clearly is not the duty of the attorney-general to interfere ex officio. If the case is within chapter 382 of the Acts of 1887, as amended by chapter 274 of the Acts of 1892, your Board, as you are aware, is at liberty to proceed in it if it is considered of sufficient importance to make it your duty so to do, but from your present communication I do not infer that you have so determined the matter.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[Gas Commission. Unauthorized opening of streets by a gas company is an irregularity in the exercise of its franchise which may properly be reported to the attorney-general under ch. 314 of 1885, though it may not call for proceedings by quo warranto for forfeiture of the charter. Powers of the board of aldermen and superintendent of streets of Boston in such case. General rule that attorney-general will not interfere by information to restrain public nuisance by obstruction of street if there is a remedy in the hands of local authorities or if there are other remedies. Construction of statute not to be favored which requires attorney-general to interfere solely or principally for protection of private interests.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, June 16, 1892.

To the Honorable Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners :

At the request of the Brookline Gas Light Company and others having an interest in the subject of your report to me that the Brookline company is violating the provisions of its charter and of the Public Statutes by digging up the streets of Boston for the purpose of laying gas-pipes therein without the consent of the board of aldermen, I have heard them and their counsel upon the questions involved, and it is proper for me to inform you of my conclusion.

It was objected that the case is not within the Gas Commission Act, chapter 314 of the Acts of 1885, and that your Board has no concern with it, as you are not charged with the care of the streets of Boston. While the statute literally includes all violations of law by a gas company, there are doubtless some offences to which it is not to be applied. If, for example, a gas company should publish a libel, I do not suppose the statute requires your Board or the attorney-general to interfere. But if the Brookline company has opened the streets of Boston without the consent of the board of aldermen or some equivalent authority, it is an irregular or improper exercise of its franchise, which, in my opinion, you are justified in noticing and reporting to the attorney-general for such proceedings as, in the language of the statute, he may deem expedient. Such proceedings, however, must be at common law, as there is no express statutory remedy in this case; and the question arises whether any remedy is applicable or is likely to be maintained.

The principal question of law involved is of the validity of the permits issued by the superintendent of streets of Boston, which constitute the only authority the Brookline company has or claims to have for opening the streets. There is much reason for the view which you seem to have adopted, that it does not rest with the superintendent of streets to determine whether one gas company or several shall supply the people of Boston, and while it may be for this executive officer to say when, where, or how particular streets shall be opened by a company having authority, it is not for him to say whether they shall be opened at all by any particular company. On the other hand, it is argued with force that as the Brookline company has authority under its charter to supply gas in Boston, it needs nothing more except leave to open the streets here and there, as its operations may require; and that to grant this leave is an executive or administrative act, to be performed, under the charter amendments of 1885, by the executive officer having charge of the streets. The true view may be that it is, in the first instance, an executive act within the power of the superintendent of streets, unless and until the board of aldermen sees fit to interfere. In this view, the permits are not void, though voidable by the action of the aldermen. But I do not find it necessary to come to a definite conclusion upon the correctness of either of these views, as there are other considerations which, under the circumstances, determine the question whether I ought to proceed.

The supposed violation of law by the Brookline company consists, first, in an irregular or improper exercise of its franchise; and second, in creating a nuisance by obstructing the public streets. As to the first point, the facts do not present a case which calls for the extreme remedy of quo warranto for forfeiture of the charter ; and apart from the nuisance, there seems to be no sufficiently clear and serious invasion of the public right to call for the intervention of the attorney-general, in view of other circumstances.

As to the alleged nuisance created by opening the streets, the attitude of the local authorities is important to be considered. The executive branch of the city government is promoting the work, having made the contract under which it is being done. The board of aldermen does not attempt to interfere, and has yet taken no action either way. If the permits are void, the whole matter is in the hands and control of that Board. And whether they are void or not, it appears to me that under section 4 of the Brookline company's charter of 1854, or section 77 of chapter 106 of the Public Statutes, or in the exercise of the general legislative or judicial powers which they still retain, the aldermen have authority to prevent the opening of the streets by the Brookline company, unless they are now debarred from exercising it by the contract made with the company by the mayor ; and if the obligation of the contract puts the matter beyond their reach, it puts it also beyond mine. The aldermen may yet consent to the operations of the Brookline company, or affirm the action of the superintendent of streets ; and this would at once put an end to any proceedings in court. The court will not ordinarily interfere to abate or prevent a nuisance upon information of the attorney-general while there is an adequate remedy in the hands of the local authorities, nor unless the invasion of the public right is of a substantial character and is clearly established and there is no other adequate and sufficient remedy. In this case there are other remedies besides that in the hands of the local authorities, by indictment, or action for trespass, or perhaps under section 17 of chapter 186 of the Public Statutes ; though doubtless none of these are so efficient as a proceeding by the attorney-general if maintainable. If all these rules should not be strictly applied to this case, they at least make it uncertain whether, in the present position of the matter and in view of the attitude of the board of aldermen, any proceeding in court can be maintained or will even enable the court to reach and determine the question of the validity of the permits or any other important question. If the local authorities appeared to be wilfully disregarding the public interests, or consenting to a serious violation of the public right which clearly ought not to be permitted, the court would doubtless be more willing to interfere, but the circumstances do not appear to present such a case.

It is contended by a competing company that the Brookline company can lawfully enter those parts of the city covered by the contract only under section 10 of the Gas Commission Act, after a public hearing before the board of aldermen, with a right of appeal to your Board on the part of any other company aggrieved by the decision; and that I ought to interfere, as otherwise competing companies will be deprived of this right. It may be possible to so construe this section, but you evidently do not so construe it, as your report is not put upon this ground, and it clearly is not necessary; and a construction is not to be favored which requires the intervention of the law officer of the Commonwealth solely or principally for the protection of the private interests of a business corporation.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[Legacy Tax Act. Treasurer of Commonwealth has no power to determine nor duty to advise in advance upon the question whether a particular legacy is taxable, or as to the amount of a tax, or when it becomes payable, or any other similar question.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, June 19, 1893.

Hon. GEORGE A. MARDEN, Treasurer.

SIR: — It is clear that under the Legacy Tax Act the treasurer of the Commonwealth has neither the power to determine nor the duty to advise in advance in any case as to whether a particular legacy is taxable, or for how much it is taxable, or when the tax shall be paid, or any other such question. The statute makes it the duty of executors, administrators and trustees to ascertain, or cause to be ascertained, the amount of all taxes due the Commonwealth, and to pay them within a prescribed period, and makes it the duty of the court to find that all such taxes have been paid before allowing settlement of the accounts. The probate court is the only place in which such questions can be determined, and is undoubtedly the only place in which the legislature intended to have them determined. There is no reason to believe that the legislature intended to cast this duty or any part of it upon the treasurer of the Commonwealth, and much less upon the county treasurers, to whom in any case the tax may be paid. I think it is clearly the duty of the several probate courts to take care of the interests of the Commonwealth in respect of this tax, in the settlement of the accounts of executors, administrators and trustees, as it is their duty to take care of the interests of all parties concerned, whether represented before the court by counsel or not; and I presume there is no doubt or difference of opinion upon this among the judges of probate. The provisions of the statute which require notice to the treasurer of all taxable cases, by a copy of the inventory or otherwise, and which give him power to proceed for administration, to have a special appraisal made in certain cases, and other like provisions, are intended to give and do give him a sufficient standing in court to work out the rights of the Commonwealth in all cases; but they neither authorize nor require him to deal with these cases out of court.

I think, therefore, that you are warranted in saying, and to avoid difficulty will be obliged to say, in substance, in reply to all such inquiries, that you cannot undertake to answer or advise upon them, but that you claim in each case the maximum amount which may be due the Commonwealth under any construction of the statute; and that executors, administrators and trustees must proceed upon this assumption, and must deduct and pay such amount unless and until the court determines otherwise.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[Muskets or rifles are "firearms" in the sense of sec. 124 of chapter 367 of 1893, though defective or disabled for firing.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, June 26, 1893.

Major-General SAMUEL DALTON, Adjutant-General.

SIR: — I have your request for my opinion whether under section 124 of chapter 376 of the Acts of 1893, a percussion muzzle-loading Springfield or other musket or rifle, the nipple of which is removed or plugged, or a breech-loading rifle of any pattern, of which the firing mechanism is removed, is to be considered a firearm in the sense of that section.

In my opinion there can be but one answer to this question. It is plain that a firearm is none the less a firearm because it may be temporarily disabled for effective use. Nobody would doubt or dispute that in the common understanding such arms as you describe are firearms, notwithstanding their temporary defects. It is clear also that the reasons of the legislation against the organization or parade of unauthorized bodies with firearms are not met or avoided by the circumstances stated in your inquiry. Such firearms as you describe must, therefore, be taken to be within both the language and the intent of the statute.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[A sum of money appropriated to Joseph Tilton may be paid to Josiah H. Tilton if he is in fact the person for whom the appropriation is intended, and is identified as such by the description of him in the Resolve.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, June 26, 1893.

To His Excellency the Governor and the Honorable Executive Council.

I have your request for my opinion whether under chapter 36 of the Resolves of 1893 the payment therein directed to be made to Joseph Tilton can lawfully be made to Josiah H. Tilton, for whom it was in fact intended. I understand that Josiah H. Tilton is in fact the only survivor of the men who attempted to rescue the crew of the "Aquatic;" that the name Joseph Tilton was inserted in the resolve with the intent to describe the sole survivor, and in the belief that his name was Joseph Tilton; and that there is in fact no such person as Joseph Tilton having any connection with the matter. Under these circumstances I think the recipient of the payment is sufficiently identified by being described in the resolve as the survivor of the men who attempted the rescue; and that, in view of this and the other facts, the mistake in the name may be disregarded, and the payment made to Josiah H. Tilton.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[Private freight railroad track owned and operated by a copartnership is not within ch. 365 of 1888 so as to authorize payment by the Commonwealth of a stenographer's bill for taking evidence at an inquest on a death by accident on such road.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, June 27, 1893.

Hon. JOHN W. KIMBALL, Auditor.

SIR:—In reply to your inquiry arising under chapter 365 of the Acts of 1888, I have to say that in my opinion this statute cannot be construed to require payment by the Commonwealth of a bill for reporting the evidence at an inquest upon the death of an employee killed by accident upon a private freight railroad track owned and operated by a copartnership. Very likely the legislature would have included such cases if they had been thought of; but the purpose of the statute evidently is to put these bills upon the same footing as the expenses of the Board of Railroad Commissioners, and to require payment of them by the Commonwealth only so far as they can be assessed upon and collected of the railroad corporations. No part of the expenses of the Commissioners has ever been assessed upon or collected of the individual owners of private freight railroad tracks, and under the existing statutes I do not think they can be; and the case appears to be the same as to these bills incurred under the Act of 1888.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[Caucuses for the nomination of town officers and delegates to conventions—how called]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, Sept. 6, 1893.

Hon. WILLIAM M. OLIN, Secretary.

SIR:—I reply as below to your inquiries under date of August 29 as to the holding of caucuses:—

First. In any town in which ballots for town officers are provided at the expense of the town, under section 293 of Election Act of 1893, a caucus for the nomination of any town officers who are required to be elected by ballot must be called and held under the provisions of the caucus act, sections 71–74 of the Election Act; but a caucus for the nomination of any officer not required to be elected by ballot need not be so called and held. In any town in which ballots for town officers are not provided at the expense of the town as above, a caucus for the nomination of any town officer need not be so called and held.

Second. A caucus for nominating delegates to a convention cannot be called and held otherwise than under and according to the provisions of sections 71–74. The prohibition at the end of section 71 appears to be general, and to apply to the selection of all delegates to all conventions.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[It was not the intention of the legislature that the attorney-general should go into court against the unauthorized erection of electric lighting wires in violation of section 3 of chapter 382 of the Acts of 1887, as amended by chapter 274 of the Acts of 1892, under any and all circumstances, in any part of the Commonwealth, but that, as a rule, he should act in such cases only under circumstances involving a substantial violation of the public right and interest which the local authorities are unable or unwilling to prevent.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, Sept. 6, 1893.

To the Honorable Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners.

GENTLEMEN:—So far as I can judge from the statement of facts accompanying your report of a violation, by Alonzo W. Perry of Boston, of section 3 of chapter 382 of the Acts of 1887, as amended by chapter 274 of the Acts of 1892, the case is such as to come within the intimation given you in my communication of June 16, 1893, that as a rule the attorney-general ought not to be required to go into court solely or principally for the prevention of business competition ; and it may also be a case in which it is within the power of the local authorities to control the matter and prevent the violation of law, if any. If the wires constitute an obstruction of the public streets, they are within the reach of the surveyors of highways. Under these circumstances it does not appear to me at present that I am called upon to interfere. I do not think the legislature ever intended the attorney-general to go into court against the unauthorized erection of any and every electric lighting wire, under any and all circumstances, in any part of the Commonwealth ; and it appears to me that he should, as a rule, act in such cases only under circumstances involving a substantial violation of the public right and interest, which the local authorities are unable or unwilling to prevent.

I know no reason why the legislature should not give a remedy directly to any person or corporation aggrieved in such a case as this appears to be. This would be much more convenient to the parties, who need not and ought not to be compelled to rely upon the intervention of the attorney-general. If a change in or addition to the existing law is necessary for this purpose, as it may be, I have little doubt that the legislature will make it, if attention is called to the subject.

If the case in hand is one in which your Board may lawfully proceed under section 13 of chapter 314 of the Acts of 1885, and if you desire so to do, you will of course be furnished with the necessary legal assistance from this office. Whether you may so proceed is not entirely clear, but from chapter 314 of 1885 and chapter 382 of 1887, taken together, there is at least an implication that the Board may proceed under section 13 of the former act to enforce section 3 of the latter.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[Sections 10 and 16 of chapter 314 of the Acts of 1885 do not confer upon the Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners the authority to adjudicate upon the questions presented by the appeals of the Boston Gas Light Company from the granting of permits to the Brookline Gas Light Company by the superintendent of streets of Boston.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, Sept. 7, 1893.

To the Honorable Board of Gas and Electric Light Commissioners.

I reply as below to your inquiry of August 3, whether sections 10 and 16 of chapter 314 of the Acts of 1885 apply to the appeals of the Boston Gas Light Company and others from the granting of permits to the Brookline Gas Light Company by the superintendent of streets of Boston, so as to confer upon your Board authority to adjudicate upon the questions presented by the appeals. My reply has been delayed in order to give parties in interest an opportunity to be heard.

The only right of appeal to your Board conferred by sections 10 and 16 is from the decision of the mayor and aldermen of a city, or selectmen of a town, after a public hearing before them. There has been in this case no action of the mayor and aldermen of Boston, and the action appealed from is that of the superintendent of streets. If the powers of the mayor and aldermen in such cases have been transferred by the charter of Boston to the superintendent of streets, as has been claimed, it may be that his action will support an appeal. But this is, in my opinion, doubtful, and it is clear that, taking the statute as it reads, there has been no such action as to form the foundation of an appeal.

But apart from this, it appears to me upon the facts stated that the Brookline Company must be considered as existing in active operation in the city of Boston, in the sense of the statute, at the time of its application for and the granting of the permits appealed from. If this view is correct it disposes of the question, as the requirement of a public hearing with the right of appeal does not apply to such a company.

I am of opinion, therefore, that these sections of the statute do not confer upon your Board the authority to adjudicate upon the questions presented by these appeals.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[Board of Agriculture. Right of agricultural society to representation in any year depends on its title to receive bounty that year. Title to bounty and to representation are to be determined by the societies' returns between January 10 and the first Wednesday of February each year. Society not entitled to bounty in any year unless it has awarded and paid premiums to same amount preceding year. Application of bounty to general encouragement or improvement of agriculture or manufactures does not by itself entitle society to bounty or to representation in the Board. Requirement of $1,000 invested capital in order to be entitled to bounty applies to all societies and means an actually existing invested capital. Title of society to representation in the Board accrues year by year, and membership of a representative of a society terminates when his society ceases to be entitled to representation, though within three years from the time when he took his seat, subject to reinstatement when the society again acquires the right to representation.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, Oct. 3, 1893.

To His Excellency the Governor.

I have to reply as below to your request for my opinion upon the questions raised in relation to the rights of representation of certain agricultural societies in the Board of Agriculture. The statutes bearing upon the subject are more or less complicated and confused and are difficult of construction, but upon careful consideration I am satisfied that the conclusions stated below embody the only practicable and intelligible construction which can be put upon them. I will state the matter somewhat more fully than might otherwise be necessary, in order, if possible, that the whole case may be fully understood, with a view to any changes in the law which may be thought necessary or desirable. I do not understand that section 11 of chapter 114 of the Public Statutes is material in the case of either of the societies now in question, and I have dealt with the matter only in view of such provisions as seem to be applicable to them upon the statement of facts presented by you, which of course I assume to be correct and sufficiently full for the purpose.

By sections 1 and 6 of chapter 114 of the Public Statutes, the right of any society to receive any bounty in a particular year depends upon its having awarded and paid the same amount in premiums, and complied with all the requirements of law and the regulations of the Board, during the preceding year. The right of any society to representation in the Board in a particular year depends upon its title to receive bounty in that year. Section 2, as now amended, and section 5, require each society to make the proper return on or before the 10th of January in each year, of the facts which show whether it is or is not entitled to a payment of bounty in the following October; and the theory of the law undoubtedly is that between the 10th of January, when these returns are supposed to be in, and the first Wednesday of February, when new members take their seats in the Board, the title to representation in the Board shall be determined, by and upon the returns.

It thus appears that the right of each society to representation in the Board must be determined at the time when the new members take their seats on the first Wednesday of February, according to what the society has done or omitted to do during the preceding year, as shown by its returns. And as the provision of section 1, that no society shall receive any larger bounty in any year than it has awarded and paid in premiums during the preceding year, and of section 6, that a society which neglects in any year to comply with the requirements of law or regulations of the Board shall not be entitled to bounty, are expressed in prohibitory language, I think they must be construed as peremptory conditions of representation in the Board, failure to comply with any of which forfeits the right of representation.

The question has been raised whether the application of the bounty or its equivalent for the general purpose of the encouragement or improvement of agriculture or manufactures, under the permission of section 7, is not an equivalent for the earning of bounty, so as by itself to entitle a society to representation. I do not think the statute can be so construed. The provision that no society shall receive a larger bounty than it has awarded and paid in premiums during the preceding year was a special enactment, by chapter 258 of the Acts of 1870, passed while substantially all the other provisions of the law were and had been in force at least for some years; and this clearly indicates the purpose of the legislature that the right to bounty shall depend absolutely upon the award and payment of premiums during the preceding year, and, as has already appeared, the right of representation in the Board depends upon the right to bounty. The requirement of section 7, to apply the bounty to the general encouragement or improvement of agriculture or manufactures if it is not offered in premiums, is undoubtedly binding upon every society; but while compliance with it fulfils the obligation of that section, it does not necessarily entitle a society to representation in the Board, as the bounty is not received, and therefore cannot be expended until October, while the right of the society to representation in that year depends upon its having offered and paid in premiums during the preceding year an amount equivalent to the bounty. In other words, under section 7 a society may apply a bounty either in premiums or to the general encouragement or improvement of agriculture or manufactures; but the latter application of it would not entitle the society to representation in the Board during the succeeding year, while the former application of it would, if the other requirements were fulfilled.

The question is raised also whether the requirement of section 1 of chapter 114, of an invested capital of one thousand dollars, is satisfied if a society has ever had and invested a capital equivalent to that amount. Section 1 provides that two classes of societies shall be entitled to bounty upon complying with the other requirements, namely: societies which were entitled to bounty before May, 1866, of which one thousand dollars capital was then as now a condition, and other societies whose grounds are not within twelve miles of any others, which have raised and invested the same capital. As by section 1 the bounty is to a certain extent measured by the capital, and as the reasons for requiring a capital seem to apply alike to all societies, it appears to me that this requirement applies to all. I think the reason of this provision, if not the language, can be satisfied only by an actually existing investment of capital of that amount at the time when the question of the right of the society to representation arises; and that a previous investment of such capital, which has been expended or lost, does not fulfil this requirement; the purpose of which seems clearly to be to require an existing and invested capital of at least one thousand dollars as a sort of guaranty that the society is doing or is prepared to do some actual work in the cause of agriculture.

I understand also that the question is raised whether a member taking his seat in the Board on the first Wednesday of February by virtue of what his society has done and returned during the preceding year, is entitled to serve during the full term of three years, or whether his membership may be terminated during that time by the failure of his society to continue entitled to bounty; and that I am desired to express an opinion upon this question. Section 2 of chapter 20 of the Public Statutes provides that persons appointed shall hold their offices for three years, and provides for the filling of vacancies "in the same manner," namely: by the governor and council, or by the societies. As the right to bounty in any year depends on what the society has done during the preceding year, and as the right to membership in any year depends upon the title of the society to bounty in that year, and as the title both to bounty and to membership accrues year by year if it accrues at all, and has to be shown by the returns of the society on or before the 10th of January in each year, I am of the opinion that a society which does not show by its returns on or before January 10 that it is entitled to a payment of bounty in the following October, is not entitled to representation in the Board on or after the first Wednesday of February following; and therefore that the membership of a representative of a society which does not show by its returns on or before the 10th of January that it is entitled to a payment of bounty in the following October ceases on the first Wednesday of February following the making of or the omission to make the return; subject, however, to be reinstated within the period of three years, if the society within that time acquires the right to bounty in accordance with the requirements of the law as here stated.

Applying these conclusions to the particular cases now in question, as they appear by the statement of facts furnished me, I am of opinion that the Massachusetts Society for Promoting Agriculture is not at present entitled to representation in the Board, as it did not offer or pay any premiums last year, nor make any returns as required by law; that the Bay State Agricultural Society and the Middlesex Agricultural Society are not at present entitled to representation, as they awarded and paid no premiums last year, and therefore did not become entitled to receive any bounty this year, and as their returns do not show the requisite capital. As to the Hampden Society, its return fails to show the requisite capital. The returns of the Hampshire, the Hampshire Franklin and Hampden and the Highland societies show the necessary capital.

This disposes of all the questions raised in any case on the statement of facts before me.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[Where cities and towns have incurred penalties for failure to make pauper returns under chapter 84 of the Public Statutes it seems to be the better practice for the Board of Lunacy and Charity to certify to the treasurer the amount of the reimbursement, if any, due for relief, from the Commonwealth to the cities or towns, and the penalty in each case, leaving the adjustment to be made by the treasurer by whom the settlement must eventually be made.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, Oct. 4, 1893.

HON. GEORGE A. MARDEN, Treasurer.

SIR : — I acknowledge the receipt of your inquiry, whether it is the duty of your department to enforce penalties imposed on cities and towns for failure to make pauper returns under chapter 84 of the Public Statutes, by making them part of the account in the regular settlements with the Commonwealth, or whether the officers charged with the making up of the accounts against cities and towns for the support of paupers should include the penalties therein.

The statute does not seem to determine the matter either way, and it must therefore be determined on such general considerations of convenience and expediency as apply to it. There seem to be two classes of these cases : First, cases in which reimbursement for relief is due from the Commonwealth to the city or town, against which the penalty may be set off ; and second, cases in which the city or town has incurred the penalty and nothing is due it for reimbursement, or, if anything, a less sum than the amount of the penalty. In the latter case the Board of Lunacy and Charity cannot work out the proper result in their accounts, but must report the penalty to you for collection ; and in the former case, while the Board may set off the penalty and deduct it from the amount due for reimbursement, reporting only the latter to you, I am given to understand that this practice would deprive the auditor's office of the detailed information as to the whole amount of the receipts and disbursements of the Commonwealth on the pauper account, which it is necessary for the auditor to have in order to the proper discharge of his duty. As all collections and disbursements in both classes must be made by your department, this seems to be an additional reason for ascertaining the balance therein in all cases, and for dealing with all cases by one uniform rule. I assume of course that you are always properly informed by the Board as to the exact amount due the city or town for reimbursement, as well as the amount of the penalty, so that you can first set off the penalty against the amounts due for reimbursement, if any, and if nothing is due for reimbursement, against any other moneys due the city or town, as required by section 37 of chapter 84 of the Public Statutes.

Upon such information as I have, it seems to me for these reasons the better practice for the Board of Lunacy and Charity to certify to your department the amount of the reimbursement and penalty in each case, leaving the adjustment to be made in your department where the settlement must eventually be made.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[It is the duty of the trustees of the State Primary and Reform Schools to exercise a general oversight and supervision of all children committed to the Lyman School for Boys and the State Industrial School for Girls during their minority, or until their discharge in some manner provided by law.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, Oct. 25, 1893.

To His Excellency the Governor :

I have your request for my opinion upon the question submitted by the trustees of the State Primary and Reform Schools, whether it is their duty to supervise during minority children committed to the Lyman School for Boys and the State Industrial School for Girls.

I am not sure that I understand precisely what the trustees desire to learn, nor what their idea is of the meaning of the word "supervise," as used in the statute. It is without doubt their duty to exercise such supervision as the statute prescribes over the inmates of these schools while they remain inmates thereof. And I incline to the opinion that while the system of apprenticeship established by sections 38-44 of chapter 89 of the Public Statutes was in use, it was their duty to exercise such supervision over boys or girls so apprenticed or bound out as to keep themselves reasonably informed of the condition of the child, with a view to continuing or terminating the apprenticeship as the interest of the child might require. This is clear as to girls, from section 46, and is at least implied as to both sexes, by section 40. I understand, however, that this system has gone entirely out of use, and that the inmates of these schools are now placed on probation with families as opportunity offers, without formal indentures. There seems to be no express authority for this practice in the statute, but perhaps sufficient authority is implied by the apparent recognition in sections 53-56 that inmates of such institutions may be placed "in charge of" a person, as distinguished from the formal binding out by indenture as an apprentice or servant. The provisions of sections 53 and 54, requiring the State Board to look after children in this situation, do not necessarily conflict with the duty of the trustees to do the same, nor necessarily relieve them from that duty. There is also in section 47 a provision for the transfer of girls to the Reformatory Prison for Women, but it is also provided that upon application of the trustees of the school a girl so transferred may be returned to the school; which seems to imply that it is the duty of the trustees to keep themselves informed of her condition and progress even while in the Reformatory.

On the whole, I am of opinion that it is the duty of the trustees of the State Primary and Reform Schools to exercise a general oversight and supervision of all children committed to these schools during their minority or until their discharge in some manner provided by law.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[Under chapter 474 of the Acts of 1893 it does not appear to be necessary or material for the Commissioner of Corporations, or for the attorney-general to determine the regularity or validity of the proceedings of the Bay State Gas Company in effecting or attempting to effect the cancellation or surrender of the note given by it for $4,500,000. The Commissioner of Corporations under the statute appears to have no power or duty but to take what the Company offers without admission or acknowledgment of anything.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, Nov. 27, 1893.

Hon. CHARLES ENDICOTT, Commissioner of Corporations.

SIR:—In compliance with your request I have examined the papers presented to me by Mr. Chandler in behalf of the Bay State Gas Company, relating to the cancellation and surrender of the $4,500,000 note under chapter 474 of the Acts of 1893.

I observe in them several things which might affect the validity of the proceedings as a sufficient compliance with the statute, namely: the meeting of the Bay State Gas Company of Delaware at which the surrender was voted appears by the copy of the record to have been held November 21st, 1893, while the assignment executed in pursuance of that vote refers to it as a meeting held November 18th, 1893; the vote authorizes the president of the Delaware company to assign and deliver the note to the Mercantile Trust Company for cancellation and surrender, while the assignment produced is in form the act of the company and not of the president; and it does not clearly appear whether Mr. Dening, the secretary of the Mercantile Trust Company, has sufficient authority to execute the power to cancel and surrender the note, which was voted by the gas company to the trust company and not to its secretary or other officer. There may be other like irregularities, or seeming irregularities, though I at present notice no others; and I express no opinion as to the effect of these. It does not appear to me to be necessary or material for you, nor therefore for me, to determine the effect of these omissions or the regularity or validity of the proceedings of the gas company in effecting or attempting to effect the cancellation and surrender of the note. Under the statute you appear to have no power and no duty in the premises but to take what the company offers, without admission or acknowledgment of anything, which I think you are not required to make and which probably would not bind the Commonwealth if made. The company, under the statute, must see to it that a legal and effectual cancellation and surrender of the note is made before December 1, 1893; — failing which, its charter stands repealed. It appears to me, therefore, that all questions of the regularity and sufficiency of the proceedings to effect the cancellation and surrender in accordance with the statute, are their questions and not yours.

I have called Mr. Chandler's attention to the points above noted, and understand from him that steps will be taken to properly cover them and any others which may be discovered, if any, before filing the papers. But in my opinion your position and duty in the case, now and hereafter, are only as I have above stated.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[Chapter 413 of the Acts of 1893 applies to new editions of histories originally published before the passage of the act, if such new edition contains a substantial amount of new and valuable matter, and if it also fulfils the other requirements of the act.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, Dec. 6, 1893.

Hon. WILLIAM M. OLIN, Secretary.

SIR : — In compliance with the request of the Executive Council to be advised upon the question whether chapter 413 of the Acts of 1893, entitled "An Act to authorize the purchase of historical works relative to the services of Massachusetts volunteers during the late civil war," applies to new editions of histories originally published before the passage of the act, I have to say that, in my opinion, the act may be construed to include a new edition of a previously published history, if such new edition contains a substantial account of new and valuable matter, and if it also fulfils the other requirements of the act. The purchase of copies by the Commonwealth is in every case within the control of the governor and council and the secretary, who are to determine whether the history in question fulfils all the requirements of the act, without which the purchase is not to be made.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[A label or trade-mark may be filed and recorded under ch. 443 of 1893, notwithstanding it consists of several words or devices on separate pieces of paper, or is described as a "label and trade-mark." Rules, regulations and forms prescribed by Secretary under sec. 8 relate only to the filing, and not to the form of label, etc. Duty of Secretary to see that label etc. as presented is not in such form as to be mistaken for one previously recorded. Rights of parties as to the form of labels etc. to be determined by the courts.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, Dec. 20, 1893.

HON. WILLIAM M. OLIN, Secretary.

SIR: — I have your request to be advised, upon an application for filing certain labels or trade-marks, under chapter 443 of the Acts of 1893, whether, in the case of a label or trade-mark consisting of two or more distinct parts, on separate pieces of paper, each part must be treated as a separate label or trade-mark, and whether a paper described by the applicant as a "label and trade-mark" should under the law be described either as a label or as a trade-mark and not as both.

1. In my opinion the secretary of the Commonwealth has neither the duty nor the power to prescribe, nor, with a single exception mentioned below, to interfere with the form of the label or trade-mark itself. He is to take it as presented by the applicant, who must take the risk of filing the labels, etc., in such form as may be proper and sufficient in the judgment of the courts, which must eventually determine the matter if any question is raised, to secure the protection of the law. The applicant may have a right to treat a combination of several words or devices on separate pieces of paper, to be affixed to one bottle, box or package, as one label or trade-mark, although the word or device on either piece of paper by itself might be incapable of forming a valid label or trade-mark under the law. It must be left to the courts to determine such rights. The secretary can neither enlarge nor abridge them by any rule or regulation of his office. The rules, regulations and forms which the secretary is authorized by section 6 to prescribe are only "for the filing" of the labels, trade-marks, etc., and cannot extend so far as to interfere with or control, the form of the labels, etc., themselves as the parties choose to present them. The duty of the secretary appears to be only to see that such rules, regulations and forms as he may prescribe "for the filing" are complied with, and that the label, trademark or advertisement offered for filing conforms to all the requirements of section 4.

The exception above referred to is this: By the last clause of section 4 it is clearly the duty of the secretary to pass upon the question whether the label, trade-mark or advertisement offered for record might reasonably be mistaken for one previously recorded. This question he must determine in the first instance, leaving the applicant, if aggrieved by his decision, to such remedy as the courts may afford.

The statute appears to be similar in some respects to the patent laws of the United States; under which an applicant files such description, specifications, etc., as he chooses, and the courts eventually determine, as they must here, whether and how far he has secured the protection of the law.

2. As to the second question, in my opinion the secretary cannot assume that the same paper may not properly be described as both a label and trade-mark, nor require it to be described either as the one or the other, if the applicant chooses to describe it as both, as he may have a right to do under the law.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[Metropolitan Park Commission. Expenses specified in secs. 1 and 2 of ch. 407 of 1893 may be appropriated under that Act, and are to be charged upon the fund of $1,000,000 thereby provided.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, Dec. 21, 1893.

Hon. JOHN W. KIMBALL, Auditor.

SIR:— In reply to your request for my opinion whether an appropriation is authorized by chapter 407 of the Acts of 1893 for the salaries, office expenses and travelling expenses of the Metropolitan Park Commission for the ensuing year, estimated at $10,000; and if so, whether it is to be paid from the loan of $1,000,000 authorized by that act, or from other funds in the treasury, I have to say that if the estimate includes only such expenses as are expressly allowed by sections one and two, it is authorized by the act, and is to be charged upon the fund of $1,000,000 thereby provided. It is, of course, within the power of the legislature to make a special appropriation for the purpose, but the fund of $1,000,000 is expressly provided "to meet the expenses incurred under the provisions of this act," of which the expenses of the commission are a part; and other provisions of the act have some tendency to indicate the intention of the legislature that they should be charged upon this fund. A like provision in other recent legislation of similar character has received the same construction. The fact that these expenses were met by special appropriation last year has, under the circumstances, no tendency to indicate a purpose of the legislature that they are not to be charged upon the general fund. The special appropriation of last year covered all purposes for which money was required under the act, and was undoubtedly made only for the reason that the general fund had not then become available.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

Boston, Dec. 22, 1893.

To the Civil Service Commissioners.

GENTLEMEN: — I have your request for my opinion whether a clerk in the water income department of Boston, whose duty is to make out and mail bills for water rates for a compensation of one cent each, agreed on with the head of the department, by which he earns about three dollars per day, is within the classified service, or whether the agreement for his services and the manner of compensation take the case out of the Civil Service Act and the rules.

As to your suggestion of the claim that "the personal service rendered by the clerk under an agreement to pay by the piece, is not an employment, within the meaning of the Civil Service Act and rules, but a contract engagement outside of the rules," I do not think such a distinction between an "employment" and a "contract engagement" can be maintained, at least in the present case. I have already said or intimated to the Commissioners that in my opinion a case which the law intends to include is not to be taken out of it, nor taken from the class in which it belongs and put into another, merely by the form under which the person may be selected or engaged for the service, especially if such form is adopted for the purpose of evading the law. The position of this clerk is a position of employment, in the sense of the statute, and the precise form of the contract of employment is immaterial. The case turns on the question whether a person working by the piece, whose compensation depends on the amount of work done, as distinguished from one who receives a fixed salary or compensation measured by time, is within the operation of the system.

I see no reason to doubt that the statute is broad enough to cover such cases, or that under it the rules may be extended, with the exceptions expressed in section 15, to all positions required to be filled by appointment, and all positions of employment, for labor or other service. The express exception of certain cases indicates the purpose of the legislature to include all which are not so excepted.

But the statute also provides that the rules may be made from time to time, and may be given a general or limited application; and the question here is whether the present rules extend far enough to include this case; and this depends on the question whether the clerk is included within the description of Schedule A, class one or class two, as a "person whose annual compensation is at a rate less than $800" or "a person whose annual compensation is at the rate of $800 and over."

This description might be construed to include a person regularly working by the piece, at least if his annual compensation could be so nearly determined beforehand as to make it certain whether he belongs in class one or class two; and in a case of palpable evasion or attempt to evade the rules, perhaps it ought to be so construed. But I am informed that the rules have not heretofore been generally understood as extending to persons working by the piece or quantity; and as it is within the power of the Commissioners to so extend them, if necessary or expedient, by an amendment, making it clear not only that such cases are included but so defining them that there will be no difficulty in applying the rules to any particular case and no room for evasion, I think it is better to bring them within the system in this way if at all, rather than by a construction of the present rules which might be regarded as doubtful.

I conclude, therefore, that unless the Commissioners are satisfied that the form of employment in this case is in fact an attempt to evade the law, it should not be treated as within the present rules.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[It is lawful to modify the Massachusetts Standard Policy by the addition, in the manner prescribed in the seventh excepting clause of section 60 of the Insurance Act, of provisions differing from the standard form; but a policy so modified ceases to be and is not to be called the Massachusetts Standard Policy.]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, Dec. 23, 1893.

HON. GEORGE S. MERRILL, Insurance Commissioner.

SIR:—Mr. Atkinson's inquiry whether it is permissible to modify the Massachusetts Standard fire insurance policy by the addition of a signed slip insuring against fire occasioned by riot or civil commotion, upon which you request my opinion, appears to be substantially covered by the opinion which I gave you under date of December 18, 1891; and much that was there said need not be repeated.

It is clear that under the seventh excepting clause of section 60 of the Insurance Act of 1887, additions to or modifications of the Standard Policy may be made, by a signed slip or rider or otherwise as therein prescribed; and I see no reason to doubt that this permits the addition of a provision insuring against fire originating in riot or civil commotion. The obvious and only purpose of this clause is to authorize the insertion in fire policies of provisions more or less inconsistent with those of the standard form. But the policy so modified ceases to be the Massachusetts Standard Policy, and is not to be so designated.

The purpose and effect of the legislation concerning the Standard Policy, as now embodied in section 60, is to establish a standard form as therein set out, to be known as the Massachusetts Standard Policy, which shall contain nothing more nor less than the statutory form includes, except as permitted by the first five excepting clauses of that section. The addition of anything permitted by these five clauses still leaves it the Massachusetts Standard Policy, and by the express provision of the sixth clause it may be so called. The seventh excepting clause is designed to permit such other modifications of the standard form as may be permissible on general principles of law; but the modifications must be made in the manner therein prescribed, and a policy so modified is not and is not to be described as the Massachusetts Standard Policy.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

[Acceptance of Statute by Corporation. Provision of Statute passed March 26, 1891, that it shall take effect April 14, 1891, if accepted by the Corporation, is an implied limitation of the time for acceptance, and an acceptance voted by the Corporation Oct. 14, 1892, is ineffectual]

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT,
BOSTON, Jan. 4, 1894.

Hon. WILLIAM M. OLIN, Secretary.

SIR : — I have your request to be advised whether chapter 118 of the Acts of 1891, approved March 26th, 1891, amending the charter of the Worcester Natural History Society, took effect upon its acceptance by the Society, at a meeting held October 14th, 1892, and has become a law by virtue of such acceptance; section 3 of the act providing that "this act shall take effect on the 14th day of April in the year 1891, provided that a majority of the members of said association present and voting thereon at a meeting duly called for the purpose shall vote to accept its provisions." As the question may be of importance to the Society I sent them notice of your request, to which they have made no response.

The question is whether this section raises an implied limitation of the time within which the act could be effectually accepted and take effect. In view of the familiar rule that a statutory grant is to be construed strictly as against the grantee, and of the doubts and difficulties which might arise if, under such a provision, it should be considered that the act could be accepted at any time after its passage, at the convenience of the corporation, I think it must be held that section 3 had the effect to limit the time within which the act could be accepted to April 14th, 1891; and that the acceptance voted by the corporation October 14th, 1892, was ineffectual, and therefore that the act has never taken effect and is not in force as a law.

The form of this provision is objectionable, as opening the way to uncertainty which can easily be avoided by prescribing definitely in the statute the time within which it shall be accepted, if at all, which is usually done in recent legislation of this character. It ought not to be left in doubt for a long period whether an act of the legislature has taken effect as a law. Chapter 100 of the Acts of 1883 is intended to prevent this result, and it indicates the policy of the legislature to prevent it; and I think it tends to confirm my conclusion in the present case.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,

A. E. PILLSBURY, Attorney-General.

RULES OF PRACTICE IN REQUISITION CASES.

Every application to the Governor for a requisition upon the executive authority of any other State or Territory, for the delivery up and return of any offender who has fled from the justice of this State, must be made by the district or prosecuting attorney for the county or district in which the offence was committed, and must be in duplicate original papers, or certified copies thereof.

The following must appear by the certificate of the district or prosecuting attorney : —

(a) The full name of the person for whom extradition is asked, together with the name of the agent proposed, to be properly spelled.

(b) That, in his opinion, the ends of public justice require that the alleged criminal be brought to this State for trial, at the public expense.

(c) That he believes he has sufficient evidence to secure the conviction of the fugitive.

(d) That the person named as agent is a proper person, and that he has no private interest in the arrest of the fugitive

(e) If there has been any former application for a requisition for the same person, growing out of the same transaction, it must be so stated, with an explanation of the reasons for a second request, together with the date of such application, as near as may be.

(f) If the fugitive is known to be under either civil or criminal arrest in the State or Territory to which he is alleged to have fled, the fact of such arrest and the nature of the proceedings on which it is based must be stated.

(g) That the application is not made for the purpose of enforcing the collection of a debt, or for any private purpose whatever; and that, if the requisition applied for be granted, the criminal proceedings shall not be used for any of said objects.

(h) The nature of the crime charged, with a reference, when practicable, to the particular statute defining and punishing the same.

(i) If the offence charged is not of recent occurrence, a satisfactory reason must be given for the delay in making the application.

1. In all cases of fraud, false pretences, embezzlement or forgery, when made a crime by the common law, or any penal code or statute, the affidavit of the principal complaining witness or informant that the application is made in good faith, for the sole purpose of punishing the accused, and that he does not desire or expect to use the prosecution for the purpose of collecting a debt, or for any private purpose, and will not directly or indirectly use the same for any of said purposes, shall be required, or a sufficient reason given for the absence of such affidavit.

2. Proof by affidavit of facts and circumstances satisfying the Executive that the alleged criminal has fled from the justice of the State, and is in the State on whose Executive the demand is requested to be made, must be given. The fact that the alleged criminal was in the State where the alleged crime was committed at the time of the commission thereof, and is found in the State upon which the requisition was made, shall be sufficient evidence, in the absence of other proof, that he is a fugitive from justice.

3. If an indictment has been found, certified copies, in duplicate, must accompany the application.

4. If an indictment has not been found by a grand jury, the facts and circumstances showing the commission of the crime charged, and that the accused perpetrated the same, must be shown by affidavits taken before a magistrate. (A notary public is not a magistrate within the meaning of the Statutes.) It must also be shown that a complaint has been made, copies of which must accompany the requisition, such complaint to be accompanied by affidavits to the facts constituting the offence charged by persons having actual knowledge thereof, and that a warrant has been issued, and duplicate certified copies of the same, together with the returns thereto, if any, must be furnished upon an application.

5. The official character of the officer taking the affidavits or depositions, and of the officer who issued the warrant must be duly certified.

6. Upon the renewal of an application,—for example, on the ground that the fugitive has fled to another State, not having been found in the State on which the first was granted,—new or certified copies of papers, in conformity with the above rules, must be furnished.
